STATE OF SIEGE

Brazil President Asks Strong Law To Settle Strikes

BRASILIA (UPI) — President Joao Goulart asked the federal congress Friday to put Brazil under a state of siege — modified martial law — for the next 30 days. His request was backed by the armed forces.

The measure would allow the government to cope more easily with a wave of strikes and political unrest stemming from soaring inflation due to the economic chaos in the country.

THOUSANDS STRIKE

Thirty thousand workers are on strike in Sao Paulo State. Seven thousand are out in Guanabara state. Other thousands of transport workers are on strike in Porto Alegre, the nation's third largest city, and Brasilia, the capital.

The government only today settled a nationwide strike of some 5,000 bank workers by agreeing to wage increases over the next six months totaling 105 per cent. It was the first walkout where the settlement was more than a 100 per cent increase, reflecting the ever-increasing speed of the inflationary rise throughout the country.

Goulart sent his state of siege appeal to congress through his adviser, Dager Serra, and conferred with chamber President Rainieri Mazzilli at the presidential residence outside Brasilia, presumably to discuss quick action on the executive request.

With the presidential message went statements from the war, navy, air force and justice ministers supporting the request.

Goulart's Labor party majority in the congress was believed ready to act quickly on his appeal. However, it appeared likely it might meet some adverse reaction from conservatives and the political opposition because of the effect on this nation's image abroad.

Goulart's request was not unexpected. Two weeks ago, the military cabinet was reported to have proposed that he ask congress for the state of siege. Goulart rejected the request at that time, however, because of the presence in Brazil of Yugoslav President Tito as a state guest.

Union Parish Job Interviews To Start Today

Interviews will be held starting today in Farmerville to determine whether or not a nationally-known garment manufacturer will establish a factory in Union Parish.

About 4,000 job applicants are sought for the interviews, which will also be held Monday and Tuesday, to assure an adequate labor force for the proposed factory.

The interviews, scheduled at the Farmerville American Legion Hall from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on the three days, will be conducted by a labor evaluation team made up of company executives and staff members from the Louisiana Division of Employment Security and Department of Commerce and Industry.

Union Parish business leaders explained that Farmerville is not the only location being considered for this factory. The labor survey will be a major factor in choice of the plant site, they said.

To aid Union Parish in obtaining the industry, Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard announced Friday that buses will be operated Monday and Tuesday to Farmerville to provide transportation for anyone desiring to sign up as an applicant.

"These buses are being furnished as a courtesy by the City of Monroe," Howard said, adding, "We certainly want to do everything in our power to help Union Parish obtain the plant. It will be of tremendous value to the area."

JFK To Initial Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced Friday that President Kennedy will sign the limited nuclear test-ban treaty next Monday.

The President's signature will constitute this country's formal ratification of the document banning all but underground nuclear test explosions.

Ratification of the treaty was approved by an 80-19 vote of the Senate on Sept. 24 after two weeks of debate.

The White House said the treaty will go into full effect on Thursday, Oct. 10, when the three original copies are placed in official depositories in Washington, London and Moscow.

These are the capitals of the three nuclear powers that negotiated the agreement at Moscow last July-August.

Hurricane Hikes Death Toll After Hitting Islands

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora killed at least 25 persons in Haiti, left thousands homeless, then raked Cuba on Friday on a course that prompted forecasters to alert the Bahamas and eastern Florida.

The vicious storm's swath through western Haiti built its death toll up to 42. Seventeen lives were lost when it battered Tobago Island off Venezuela on Tuesday.

50-50 CHANCE

Forecasters in the U.S. Weather Bureau at Miami said at last report there was 50 per cent or less chance that Flora would head their way. But they urged interests on the Florida east coast to stay in touch with advisories in the succeeding 48 hours.

Flora wrought some damage in Cuba—and Cuba on Flora—as the season's sixth tropical storm whirled over the island nation's Oriente Province.

A report from a weather station at Punta Lucracia on eastern Cuba's north coast said top winds were 85 miles per hour—a drop of 30 miles per hour in peak strength since Flora mauled and left western Haiti. But weathermen said the storm could regain strength over water.

Havana radio reported that in crossing eastern Cuba Flora knocked out Guantanamo City's power plant, called a halt to traffic in Santiago de Cuba, damaged crops and sent the Mayari River cascading over its banks.

Rough seas were forecast to spread through the Bahamas Friday night and today and probably would reach southeast Florida—Miami area—today.

Flora was centered at last report around latitude 21.1 north, longitude 75.6 west on the northern coast of Oriente. The storm with gales 175 miles north and east of center, was expected to move northwest at 10 m.p.h. Friday night.

Hurricane forecasters at Miami advised Bahama residents from Andros, Nassau and Eleuthera in the islands' central portion southward to complete precautions as soon as possible for hurricane winds, high tides and rough seas.

Police Stage Raids Under State Red Act

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — State and city police Friday arrested three men in conducting five raids, the first made under the state's Communist Control Act.

The three were Dr. James A. Dombrowski, executive director of the Southern Conference Fund, Inc.; Benjamin Smith, treasurer of the fund, and Bruce Walzer, identified as a member of the SCEF. Smith and Walzer are law partners.

ACTION REQUESTED

The raids were conducted at the offices of the SCEF, Dombrowski's home, homes of Smith and Walzer and at their law office.

Police, who acted at the request of the Louisiana Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities, confiscated a truckload of records and office equipment, mostly from the SCEF headquarters.

Police booked the three with criminal conspiracy, alleging that they knowingly and willingly participated in the management of a subversive organization, secreted books, records and files of a subversive organization and remained so, and distributed and stored communist political propaganda in Louisiana.

The arrests and raids were made on warrants issued by Criminal Dist. Judge Thomas M. Brahney Jr.

State Rep. James H. Pfister said the SCEF is headed by the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, close associate of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

"Our committee has been carrying on an intensive investigation of the Southern Conference Educational Fund Inc. for some 11 months," Pfister said.

"This organization is definitely an identified Communist front. Several of its officers have been identified in sworn testimony as communists."

Berbers Turn Down Bella's Peace Offers

Morocco Aid Is Asked To Ease Tension

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella appointed a mission Friday to ease tension with neighboring Morocco after Algerian Berber dissidents defiantly rejected his peace overtures at home.

The Algerian president thus intended to diminish the crisis gripping the country since last Sunday. However, persistent reports continued of growing unrest spreading south and west of the capital.

ECONOMIC WOES

There were growing economic difficulties too.

The dissident command refused to negotiate with a mission of parliamentarians and called on its troops to remain vigilant "to break fascism and save the nation."

The government meanwhile moved to block bank accounts of French settlers affected by last Tuesday's sweeping nationalization of French farm property.

Departing French settlers were refused money in amounts larger than 1,000 francs—$200—and bank officials said a decree was in preparation to block all bank transfers.

A formal statement of the leader of the rebellious "Front of Socialist Forces"—FFS—described Ben Bella's attempt to negotiate as in vain and said: "Why did these deputies fail to denounce constant violence, arrests of militants, internments, torture and the banning of nationalist organizations?"

The dissident command invited the parliamentarians to "unite with the people to denounce creeping fascism and torture" and demanded a congress of all revolutionary elements "to solve the current crisis."

House, Senate Reach Accord On Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate conferees reached agreement Friday on a final, compromise version of the defense money bill.

No details were announced on the actions which resolved differences between the $47.1 billion House bill and a $47.3 billion Senate version. Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said the conference will be filed in the House Monday and considered Tuesday.

The bill includes funds for Army, Navy, Air Force and the Marines for the year which began July 1.

On one of the major controversies in the bill—funds for development of mobile medium range ballistic missile (MMRB) development—the conferees were said to have split the difference between Senate and House versions. The Senate voted $103 million for the MMRB while the House voted only $43 million. The administration had asked $143 million.

The administration asked for a total of $49 billion. The compromise was below last year's $48.4 billion version of the bill, but savings were more apparent than real.

The military pay raise bill signed by President Kennedy this week will require a supplementary appropriation next year of about $900 million. In addition, funds for military housing programs are being carried in the military construction bill which is still to be enacted.

Army Chief Takes Post In Honduras

Supreme Power As Last Forces Quit Fighting

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The army's commander assumed supreme power in Honduras Friday, reporting the last holdout forces of ousted President Ramon Villeda Morales had surrendered.

Col. Osvaldo Lopez Arellano, a career officer, announced in a proclamation he will act as provisional president without the junta that usually goes along with Latin-American military coups.

NATION CALM

The proclamation, issued 24 hours after Villeda Morales was overthrown in sharp fighting in Tegucigalpa, declared the nation was calm. Stores reopened, but soldiers still guarded government buildings.

An army communique under Lopez Arellano's signature asserted that the 2,500-man force created by Villeda Morales, had downed arms everywhere in the country.

It was this force, organized in 1959 after a previous uprising, that fought army troops in downtown Tegucigalpa Thursday morning. The army communique said 21 were killed in the fighting and unofficial reports listed the number wounded at 50.

The communique listed six army soldiers killed and 15 civilians.

Mrs. Villeda Morales still was in the presidential palace, but the army said she is free to go. She is expected to join her husband soon at his exile in neighboring Costa Rica.

The provisional president's proclamation said the army took over to end Communist infiltration, administrative chaos and political unrest. Villeda Morales has dismissed such charges in the past as mere excuses to justify a military uprising.

Villeda Morales was nearing the end of a six-year term as the first constitutional president in a quarter of a century. Presidential elections were set for Oct. 13, and his Liberal party had nominated Modesto Rodas Alvarado.

CIA Official

Recalled From South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — John H. Richardson, chief of the CIA operation in South Viet Nam, is being recalled to Washington, it was reported Friday night.

The stated purpose of bringing the Central Intelligence Agency official home at this time is that he is wanted for consultation, but qualified officials said it was unlikely that he would return to South Viet Nam.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is reported on good authority to have requested Richardson's replacement.

Lodge is also reported to be considering various personnel changes in the U.S. staff in the war-torn country, following the crisis in U.S. relations with the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

As CIA chief, Richardson has been one of the key officials in the development of the U.S. role of helping the Diem government to fight Communist guerrilla forces.

Attorneys had requested the action to remove any question from a proposed bond issue to finance the dormitory.

Strike Poses Threat For Soviet Wheat

MONTREAL (AP) — Longshoremen in three St. Lawrence River ports struck Friday for higher wages, threatening to halt the flow of millions of dollars worth of wheat and flour just sold to the Soviet Union. They walked out in Montreal, Quebec City and Trois-Rivieres.

The strike had an immediate impact in Ottawa. The opposition Conservatives in Parliament accused Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal government of failing to take action to halt the strike and avert an interruption in shipment of grain to the Soviet Union.

ARBITRATOR

The government ordered federal mediator Rene Lippe into the wage dispute. He called in representatives of the 3,800 strikers of the International Longshoremen's Association and officials of the Shipping Federation of Canada.

The strike heaped fresh troubles on the federal government. Earlier Friday the government conceded that U.S.-Canadian talks on ways to end labor strife on the Great Lakes waterfronts have reached an impasse.

As ship loading operations ground to a halt, an informed source said Canada conceivably could lose some of its wheat sales to the Soviet Union if the strike prevents monthly deliveries from being fulfilled.

A $500-million contract signed last month for 228 million bushels of wheat and flour calls for month-by-month deliveries. The informant said that under the contract, Soviet buyers are not obligated to take wheat not delivered on schedule. But he said Soviet buyers might agree to accept delays because of the sharp need for wheat.

The strike began just as the St. Lawrence ports were in the autumn boom.

Area Weather Favors Outings

Summer sports and outings will be in vogue this weekend as area inhabitants take advantage of the 90 degree temperatures in an attempt to hang on to a bygone summer. A hardly noticeable breeze is expected to stir at about 5 to 12 m.p.h., varying in direction.

Daytime highs will do an about face when night falls and the mercury will dip into the mid 50s tonight and Sunday night.

And on the possibility of rain for the weekend — none.

Woman Locks Repairman In Clothes Closet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A woman locked a television repairman in her apartment Thursday and refused to release him until the picture on her set suited her. He said she also hit him with a hammer.

Robert F. Hess, 20, reported the incident to police Friday. He said earlier this week he had gone to the woman's apartment to repair the set. He was called back Thursday with the report the set was not working properly.

He told police he was met at the door by the irate television fan and as he stepped inside she slammed the door and locked it.

"Now you fix that set," she demanded.

Hess got out his equipment and began work. As he stooped over the set, the woman picked up a hammer and struck him a lusty blow on the right hip.

He said she had maintained her threatening attitude until the set was functioning to suit her. She then unlocked the door, and Hess left in haste. He was treated for a bruised hip by a private physician.

'GONE TO DOGS'

Canine League Hits Installment Buying

LONDON (AP) — The National Canine Defense League asserted Friday that selling dogs on the installment plan is carrying the modern mercantile trend too dog-gone far.

The league pointed out that while the installment buyer may become attached to a car, washing machine or television set, the reverse is not true—these things are incapable of returning the affection.

But a dog, said an article in the league's house organ, Dogs Bulletin, is a different proposition. How does a dog feel when torn from his part-owner's arms for nonpayment of the October installment? Rejected, that's how he feels, said Dogs Bulletin. And there is nothing unhappier than a dog who feels rejected.

Dogs Bulletin said the installment buying of swanky dogs such as poodles as status symbols has become quite common in Britain. "How much longer," thundered the journal, "do we have to tolerate spurious dealings in living creatures?"

"Hire purchase is a good thing when it comes to buying washing machines and vacuum cleaners. But what will it mean to dogs? The system probably will work for most people. But it takes no genius to visualize the outcome for many in the lower income group."

"People who buy an expensive pedigree poodle for the child may tire of paying the installments when they could have bought a washing machine instead."

"They refuse to pay any more and the dog is reclaimed by the pet shop."

The pet shop then sells the dog to somebody else, Dogs Bulletin said, and this could wreck the poor pooch's ego.

Texas Governor Sees Hard Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. John B. Connally of Texas said he told President Kennedy on Friday that Kennedy will have a hard race in Texas next year "but I think he'll carry the state."

The President and the governor talked a little politics and went over plans for Kennedy to make a political expedition to the state Nov. 21-22.

A reporter said, "We hear that (Sen. Barry) Goldwater is very strong in Texas and might take the state in '64."

Woman Locks Repairman In Clothes Closet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A woman locked a television repairman in her apartment Thursday and refused to release him until the picture on her set suited her. He said she also hit him with a hammer.

Robert F. Hess, 20, reported the incident to police Friday. He said earlier this week he had gone to the woman's apartment to repair the set. He was called back Thursday with the report the set was not working properly.

He told police he was met at the door by the irate television fan and as he stepped inside she slammed the door and locked it.

"Now you fix that set," she demanded.

Hess got out his equipment and began work. As he stooped over the set, the woman picked up a hammer and struck him a lusty blow on the right hip.

He said she had maintained her threatening attitude until the set was functioning to suit her. She then unlocked the door, and Hess left in haste. He was treated for a bruised hip by a private physician.

'GONE TO DOGS'

Canine League Hits Installment Buying

LONDON (AP) — The National Canine Defense League asserted Friday that selling dogs on the installment plan is carrying the modern mercantile trend too dog-gone far.

The league pointed out that while the installment buyer may become attached to a car, washing machine or television set, the reverse is not true—these things are incapable of returning the affection.

But a dog, said an article in the league's house organ, Dogs Bulletin, "is a different proposition. How does a dog feel when torn from his part-owner's arms for nonpayment of the October installment? Rejected, that's how he feels," said Dogs Bulletin. And there is nothing unhappier than a dog who feels rejected.

Dogs Bulletin said the installment buying of swanky dogs such as poodles as status symbols has become quite common in Britain.

"How much longer," thundered the journal, "do we have to tolerate spurious dealings in living creatures?"

"Hire purchase is a good thing when it comes to buying washing machines and vacuum cleaners. But what will it mean to dogs? The system probably will work for most people. But it takes no genius to visualize the outcome for many in the lower income group."

"People who buy an expensive pedigree poodle for the child may tire of paying the installments when they could have bought a washing machine instead."

"They refuse to pay any more, and the dog is reclaimed by the pet shop."

The pet shop then sells the dog to somebody else, Dogs Bulletin said, and this could wreck the poor pooch's ego.

Morocco Aid Is Asked To Ease Tension

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella appointed a mission Friday to ease tension with neighboring Morocco after Algerian Berber dissidents defiantly rejected his peace overtures at home.

The Algerian president thus intended to diminish the crisis gripping the country since last Sunday. However, persistent reports continued of growing unrest spreading south and west of the capital.

ECONOMIC WOES

There were growing economic difficulties too.

The dissident command refused to negotiate with a mission of parliamentarians and called on its troops to remain vigilant "to break fascism and save the nation."

The government meanwhile moved to block bank accounts of French settlers affected by last Tuesday's sweeping nationalization of French farm property.

Departing French settlers were refused money in amounts larger than 1,000 francs—$200—and bank officials said a decree was in preparation to block all bank transfers.

A formal statement of the leaders of the rebellious "Front of Socialist Forces"—FFS—described Ben Bella's attempt to negotiate as in vain and said: "Why did these deputies fail to denounce constant violence, arrests of militants, internments, torture and the banning of nationalist organizations?"

The dissident command invited the parliamentarians to "unite with the people to denounce creeping fascism and torture" and demanded a congress of all "revolutionary elements" to solve the current crisis.

House, Senate Reach Accord On Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate conferees reached agreement Friday on a final, compromise version of the defense money bill.

No details were announced on the actions which resolved differences between the $47.1 billion House bill and a $47.3 billion Senate version, Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said the conference will be filed in the House Monday and considered Tuesday.

The bill includes funds for Army, Navy, Air Force and the Marines for the year which began July 1.

On one of the major controversies in the bill—funds for development of mobile medium range ballistic missile (MMBM) development—the conferees were said to have split the difference between Senate and House versions. The Senate voted $103 million for the MMRBM while the House voted only $43 million. The administration had asked $143 million.

The administration asked for a total of $49 billion. The compromise was below last year's $48.4 billion version of the bill, but savings were more apparent than real.

The military pay raise bill signed by President Kennedy this week will require a supplementary appropriation next year of about $900 million. In addition, funds for military housing programs are being carried in the military construction bill which is still to be enacted.

Will the open ditches on Stella Street (in West Monroe) be closed when the contract is let? From North Fifth to North Seventh Streets on Stella Street, there are open ditches and some are very deep.

Robert Graves, the Louisiana Highway Department project engineer for the I-20's Stella Street interchange, points out that the ditches will remain open, but adds that the public will be protected by road closures and elevated ramps.

There will be but two openings into the interchange in the area mentioned — an entrance on Stella and an outlet on Mill. Six to eight old streets, running perpendicular to Stella and Mill will be permanently blocked.

What does Ouachita Parish Engineer Wayne Huckaby get for accompanying police jurors on road inspections? Where did Huckaby hold his last job before this?

Police Jury records show that Mr. Huckaby receives a flat monthly salary and receives no extra pay for any of the functions of the job. He is on call at all hours.

Prior to becoming parish engineer, he was for about eight months Highway Construction Engineer, for the state, with offices in Baton Rouge. Before that time, for about four years, he was District Five Highway Engineer with offices at Monroe. Huckaby says he resigned to take his present post June 1, 1961.

Is there any kind of law against putting cigarette butts and other similar objects in soft drink bottles that are to be re-used?

Is there a city ordinance against throwing bottles out of cars?

As far as the Morning World was able to ascertain, there is no prohibitive law on putting cigarette butts, ashes and such objects in a soft drink bottle. However, soft drink companies thoroughly sterilize these bottles before they are re-used, and the Federal Food and Drug Commission has rigid rules about sterilization.

In answer to the second question, the City of Monroe does have an ordinance about throwing bottles and other type objects out of cars onto city streets and violation of said ordinance is punishable by either fine or a city jail term or both, which ever the city court levies. This law can be found in Section 24, Paragraph 4 of the City Code and reads:

When was sugar making started in Louisiana?
According to the Louisiana Almanac and fact book, it was started commercially in 1795 by Etienne de Bore, a former mayor of the City of New Orleans. Louisiana produces more cane sugar than any other state in the union.

How many eclipses occurred or will occur during 1963?

According to scientists there have been four eclipses of either the sun or moon so far this year — the latest being the total eclipse of the sun last July 20. However, it was a partial eclipse in this area. A moon eclipse is scheduled Dec. 30.

What is a harvest moon?

This is the period when the full moon is nearest to the autumnal equinox. It ushers in a period of several successive days when the moon rises soon after sunset. This phenomenon gives farmers in north temperate latitudes extra hours of light in which to harvest their crops before frost and winter come — hence the name. The 1963 Harvest Moon fell the past week — on Oct. 2 to be exact.

Two Charged With Arson At Bastrop

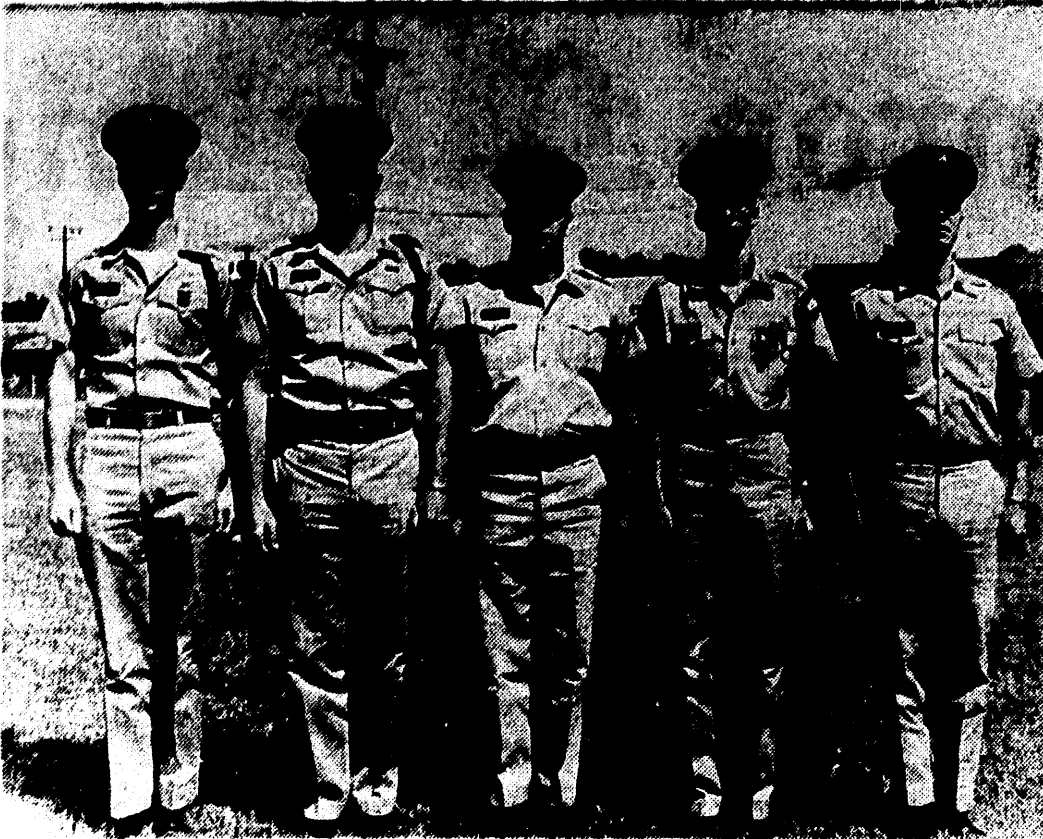

BASTROP (Special) — A Negro and a white man have been charged on four counts that include arson and conspiracy, with intent to defraud, by Morehouse parish authorities.

The two were identified by officials of the state fire marshal's office in Monroe as Will Anderson, Negro, of Carbon Plant Road, Bastrop, and H. H. Heath, who was free after posting bonds of $500 on each count, totaling $2,000, while the Negro was being held in the Morehouse parish jail, so far unable to post bond.

They were arrested on the counts as the result of an investigation of two separate fires in a house located on Carbon Plant Road, southwest of Bastrop, owned by Anderson.

Deputy fire marshals said a blaze swept through the vacant house around 1 a.m. Sept. 15, causing partial damage, but was extinguished by the Bastrop fire department. While the incident was being investigated by the fire marshals, the Morehouse sheriff's office and the Bastrop fire department, the house once again blazed into flames on Sept. 20. The second fire inflicted extensive damage on the dwelling, which was insured.

Anderson was arrested by Morehouse authorities earlier this week, and Heath apprehended in Monroe by police who transferred him back to Morehouse parish to face the charges. Spokesmen for the state fire marshal's office said confessions have been obtained.

Laborites Build Platform

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — Britain's Laborites confidently concluded another annual conference Friday with a strong Socialist program to offer the nation's voters.

Harold Wilson's opposition party emerged from the five-day jam-boree so sure of election victory that its high command already has begun outlining a Labor government's first installment of new laws. Taken together, these would push the British state to the left almost from the moment of Labor's assumption of power from the Conservatives now lead by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Wilson stirred the delegates with a reaffirmation of Labor's resolve to restore Britain's industrial power, her sense of social purpose and justice and her standing in the world. Waves of cheers greeted him and then the delegates stood up and sang "The Red Flag," their party anthem, before dispersing.

Wilson promised a full-scale ministry of science, more state money for research, double the number of university places by 1975, a centralized state-run research and development center. The party wound up one of its most exciting postwar conferences with an expressed eagerness for radical change and perceptible shift to the left.

Highlights of Wilson's immediate legislative plans in the event of a Labor victory within the coming year:

1. The steel industry, at the heart of the nation's productive potential, would be renationalized.

2. The state would begin takeover of development land. The building industry would be controlled with the parallel aim of reducing soaring house and property prices.

3. A tax on wealth would be part of a wider reorganization of public financing.

4. Social security services would be strengthened with a promise of half-pay to all average wage earners who retire, are sick or lose their jobs through redundancy.

5. There would be enabling action allowing Labor to rush ahead with its commitment to expand the economy and increase productivity. Measures would include those to curb monopolies, readjust exports and imports with incentives for those industries essential to the national economy and to regulate the growth rate of profit, dividends and wages.

6. In overseas affairs, Labor would speed the winding up of the empire. Wilson would call a conference of Commonwealth prime ministers as means of disengaging Britain from the explosive problem of Southern Rhodesia's future and to lay new patterns of economic and political cooperation. He wants also to set up three new ministries—for disarmament, for overseas development and for United Nations affairs.

Three others paid $5 and costs for running stop signs, seven paid $5 for running red lights, and one paid $30 for disturbing the peace.

TOO MUCH INTERFERENCE

Rep. Hebert Blasts Chiefs In Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civilian chiefs of the Pentagon drew a sharp rebuke Friday from the chairman of a congressional subcommittee on armed services.

"There is too much interference by men at the Pentagon who know nothing about what they are doing," said Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee. Hebert's remarks were at a subcommittee hearing on a proposed revamping of reserve officer training programs. He took the occasion to deliver some general views on what he thinks is going on at the Pentagon. No top civilian Pentagon officials were present.

"There is too much interference by too many people who are here today and gone tomorrow," Hebert said. "That's the crux of the problem."

Those strong comments about the Pentagon were the second to come from a member of the powerful House Armed Services committee in as many days. Rev. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of another armed services subcommittee, accused the Department of Defense Thursday of "expressing contempt for Congress" by ordering an inventory of racial discrimination in communities near military bases.

Rivers said the committee would hold hearings on a controversial directive by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara telling the armed services to set up a system of measuring progress in ending discrimination on and off bases.

This directive, issued last July 26, provoked angry comments in the southern-dominated committee. Its chairman, 80-year-old Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., introduced a bill making it a court martial offense for an officer to use the powers given by the directive.

Hubert, however, was not discussing the race problem when he lashed out at the Pentagon. But he made it clear that he was unhappy with some of the controlling civilians in the department and their directives. And another committee member, Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., who joined Hebert in denouncing the department, did bring up the McNamara directive.

The specific problem that aroused Hebert was the fact that the Air Force had proposed a pilot program for cutting both Army and Air Force ROTC from four to two years.

Hebert said the Air Force actually wanted a separate program from the Army but had been forced to testify for a joint program because of orders from its civilian bosses.

CHALLENGE BELIEF

Negroes To Plan Mormon Pickets

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Mormon faith, which teaches that Negroes are cursed by God, was threatened Friday with a peaceful Negro demonstration at its historic headquarters. Members of the Utah chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were to vote Friday night on whether to picket the church.

Negro leaders told officials of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on Thursday night the picketing was likely unless they meet certain demands. They asked support for President Kennedy's civil rights program, support for civil rights legislation in Utah and endorsement of "the principle of equality of opportunity for all Americans."

The picketing, if it takes place, will come today during the Church's 133rd semiannual conference, which has attracted thousands of Mormons to Salt Lake City. A spokesman said the Negroes tentatively planned to march at Temple Square in the heart of the city, site of the historic Mormon Temple and Tabernacle. Neither the Church nor the NAACP would comment on Thursday night's meeting, except to confirm that one was held.

Meeting with the Negro delegation Thursday night were Church President David O. McKay and his two counselors, Hugh B. Brown and Nathan Eldon Tanner.

Tanner would not confirm that the Negroes threatened to picket the conference, adding: "I don't think there is anything to worry about." A Negro spokesman, who attended the meeting but declined use of his name, said Mormon officials indicated they would not go along with the NAACP demands. Mormon belief teaches that the Negro was cursed by God as a descendant of Cain and that the mark of this curse is his dark skin. Cain was cursed because he murdered his brother Abel.

Negroes are admitted to membership in the Church, but are barred from the priesthood, into which members of other races are freely admitted.

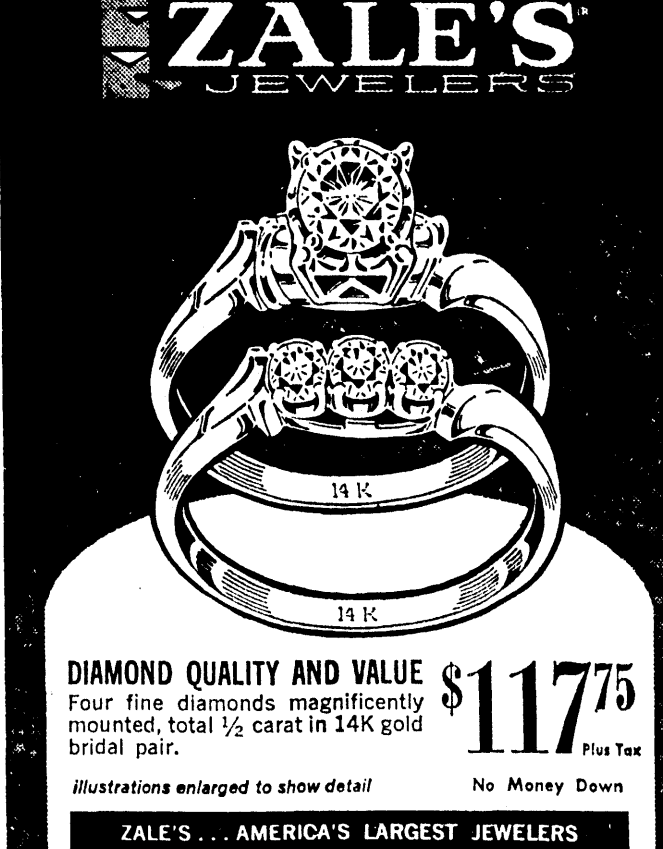

Orchestra Set For Northeast Concert Series

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will definitely appear here on March 12, Dr. Harry Lemert, chairman of the Northeast State Concerts Association, said Friday.

The 1963-64 series will begin on Nov. 10 with the Goldovsky Opera Theatre production of "Tosca." Other attractions booked for the season include Whittemore and Lowe, duo-pianists, and the Chicago Opera Ballet.

Arrangements are still to be completed for the local presentation of the famous Broadway musical, "Camelot."

Season tickets for the concerts are now on sale. Dr. Lemert reminds, for further information, he may be contacted at the Division of Fine Arts, Northeast State College, or tickets may be purchased from any one of the many volunteer workers conducting ticket sales throughout Northeast Louisiana.

Why did the State Highway Department leave a traffic light off at Texas Avenue and South Second Street, after making it a blind corner?

District Foreman Engineer George Foreman answers the question as follows: "South Second Street is a divided four-lane thoroughfare at this location. Since it goes under the railroad and there is no delay created from a grade crossing, it is anticipated that the traffic count will be much greater on South Second Street than on Texas Avenue.

"A traffic light would serve to impede the north-south flow of traffic unnecessarily.

"To the best of our knowledge, that's not a blind corner."

How many committee assignments do members of the Louisiana delegation to the U. S. House of Representatives have?

House members from Louisiana hold 13 committee assignments; this does not include any subcommittee positions, however. In addition to two committee assignments, Rep. Hale Boggs of the Second District (New Orleans) is House Majority Whip.

When was Louisiana's Old Age Pension law approved?

The law was approved by the Legislature in June, 1948. Originally, it said it was to provide for needy citizens of the state 65 years of age and older who shall have a total income of not less than $78 per month. It was not passed for everyone over 65, but only those needy persons who cannot meet their basic living expenses from any other source.

Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., who joined Hebert in denouncing the department, did bring up the McNamara directive.

The specific problem that aroused Hebert was the fact that the Air Force had proposed a pilot program for cutting both Army and Air Force ROTC from four to two years.

Hebert said the Air Force actually wanted a separate program from the Army but had been forced to testify for a joint program because of orders from its civilian bosses.

CHALLENGE BELIEF

Negroes To Plan Mormon Pickets

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Mormon faith, which teaches that Negroes are cursed by God, was threatened Friday with a peaceful Negro demonstration at its historic headquarters.

Members of the Utah chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were to vote Friday night on whether to picket the church.

Negro leaders told officials of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on Thursday night the picketing was likely unless they meet certain demands.

They asked support for President Kennedy's civil rights program, support for civil rights legislation in Utah and endorsement of "the principle of equality of opportunity for all Americans."

The picketing, if it takes place, will come today during the Church's 133rd semiannual conference, which has attracted thousands of Mormons to Salt Lake City.

A spokesman said the Negroes tentatively planned to march at Temple Square in the heart of the city, site of the historic Mormon Temple and Tabernacle.

Neither the Church nor the NAACP would comment on Thursday night's meeting, except to confirm that one was held.

Meeting with the Negro delegation Thursday night were Church President David O. McKay and his two counselors, Hugh B. Brown and Nathan Eldon Tanner. Tanner would not confirm that the Negroes threatened to picket the conference, adding: "I don't think there is anything to worry about."

A Negro spokesman, who attended the meeting but declined use of his name, said Mormon officials indicated they would not

Pettit Seeks Police Jury Re-Election

L. B. Pettit of Ward 3 has announced his candidacy to the Ouachita Parish Police Jury in the Dec. 7th First Democratic primary.

Pettit issued the following statement:

"I am seeking re-election to the Police Jury from Ward 3 on my record of 12 years of service. I am now serving my second year as president of the Police Jury.

"I have been a resident of Ouachita Parish and Ward 3 for the past 39 years. I am a member of the First Baptist Church, serving on the board of deacons for the past 28 years, and superintendent of the adult department in Sunday school. I have served on the board of trustees of the Louisiana Baptist Childrens Home for the past 20 years and am now president of the board.

"I am a past president of the Monroe Kiwanis Club, served on the board of directors for Ouachita Welfare for eight years and represent the Police Jury on the Cheniere Lake Commission. In addition, I am a member of the Ouachita Wildlife Unit and a member of its board. I also represent the local club on the state board of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

"During my 12 years of service on the Police Jury, I served as chairman of a citizens committee for the erection of the Green Oaks Detention Home and personally secured a 99-year lease on the 10 acres of land on which the home was built, for a consideration of $1 per year for 99 years.

"In addition, I have served as chairman of the finance committee, of the Police Jury, chairman of the road maintenance committee, chairman of the building committee for the new health unit and chairman of the building committee of the Green Oaks Detention Home.

"When I was first elected to the Police Jury there was only three miles of blacktop roads in this ward. We now have 28 1/2 miles of blacktop roads in Ward 3. Most of this mileage has been built during the last four years since the passing of the 2-mill blacktop tax, which I played an instrumental role in passing. In respect to road building, I have always had the full cooperation of not only the other Police Jury members from this ward but the entire Police Jury.

"I am seeking re-election because I feel I know and understand the needs and problems of my ward. Too, having already served 12 years has given me the opportunity to know the needs of this ward.

"I will always cooperate with the other Police Jury members in doing the things that will be for the betterment of Ouachita Parish.

"As President of the Police Jury, I am recommending to the jury members at the November meeting that we revise our wage and salary scale for all of our parish employees.

"In view of my past achievements as jurymen from Ward 3, I am asking for your support and re-election as one of the four jurymen from Ward 3. It is my desire to see as many of you in this ward as I can before election.

"I would like to take this means of thanking each and everyone of you who have voted for me in the past years, and wish for your continued support in this coming election. Remember to vote for four in Ward 3."

Auto Accidents Claim Lives Of 4 Louisianans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Auto accidents claimed four lives in Louisiana Friday — including a 6-year-old first-grader on his way to school.

Gregory Lites, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lites of Shreveport, was hit about a block from his home.

Police said the driver, Mrs. Harriet Garner, 28, a school teacher, was driving at about 10 miles an hour when it happened. The accident was termed unavoidable.

Another schoolboy, LSU student Victor J. Deutschmann of New Orleans, was killed when a car ran off a highway in Harahan.

Three other LSU students, John L. Ronfonti, 19, and Denise C. Morel, 20, and Patrick C. Leitz, 20, all of New Orleans, were in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

At Alexandria, Irving McDowell, 51, was killed when the loaded gravel truck he was driving collided with an auto at an intersection.

The driver of the car, David Battles, and a passenger, Lois Martin, were admitted to a hospital for treatment.

Fog lead to a head-on collision of two cars near Franklin, killing the driver of one, Nicholas Herbert Jr., 26, of Franklin.

The driver of the other auto, Cornelius Lewis Jr., 25, of Jeanerette, La., was taken to a hospital in Lafayette. His condition was critical.

JFK Administration Takes Calculated Risk On Viet Nam Situation

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — President Kennedy's administration appears to have taken a calculated risk in forecasting the major part of the U.S. military task in South Viet Nam can be completed by the end of 1965.

A high American military source said Friday the generally optimistic report given to Kennedy by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "look in a lot of imponderables."

These relate particularly to the ability of Vietnamese troops to hold guerrilla territory for which they now are fighting and to professional standards of the Vietnamese army.

There is also a belief here that, while Kennedy may see fit to withdraw most American military personnel by the end of 1965, the war will grind on indefinitely.

NEWS ANALYSIS

"Definition of victory in Viet Nam is hard to establish," one American official said. "These Communist guerrillas have been out there fighting either French (president) Ngo Dinh Diem for nearly 20 years. We may think we've broken their back and find they'll come right back again, as they did in 1961."

U.S. military chieftains also appear to have a different definition of victory than Viet Nam's acting military commander, Gen. Tran Van Don. He predicted Monday that victory will be achieved next year.

The Kennedy administration's interpretation of a completed task here, according to a highly placed U.S. officer, is "what it takes to reduce the insurgency to proportions which can be handled by the Vietnamese army" without outside help.

That would mean a crippled Red movement, without the power to organize the kind of mass attacks that the guerrillas have staged this year. Any significant Red military infiltration from abroad might prevent or delay such a development. The American impression is that Viet Nam has the capability of blocking a major movement of Red recruits across its frontiers.

"We have no illusions about capability of the Vietnamese army," said one officer who supports the theory that the United States can move out in two years. "They would be lost if we pulled out now. Our helicopters and fighter-bomber pilots will have to help them break the Viet Cong and we will leave them to clean up the remains."

The American military spokesman said that a week prior to McNamara's visit the government suffered more than 800 casualties — highest in any week since the war started. Weapons losses still are favoring the guerrillas by a considerable degree.

Guerrilla hard core strength still is running at around 25,000. The American high command here says, however, it assumes territorial units from which replacements are drawn are losing strength.

"McNamara wanted to know if we could win, if we could win with Diem, and if we could pull out," said a senior officer who talked with the secretary. "This new policy statement sort of takes all three of those factors into the mind."

Need For Tighter Rein

Possibly to make the administration-backed tax cut proposal sound financially reasonable, President Kennedy has said that the next fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1964, — promises an "ever-tighter rein" on federal spending.

Somehow, the "new frontier" officials point out, the deficit for the fiscal year 1965 will be held below that of this fiscal year's expected $9.2 billion in red ink. If saying this indicates a determination to cut expenses along with a cut in taxes, then we must express a degree of admiration. But cold figures and past history take virtually all the warmth out of our feelings toward administration fiscal policy.

There was, for example, Mr. Kennedy's speech of last January in which he said that he was going to "limit severely" his proposals for spending during the current fiscal year. But when these limitations were turned into figures, the U.S. taxpayers saw the government expenditures raised by $4.5 billion to a record high of $98.8 billion. And it develops that the call for an "ever-tighter rein" next year is expected to lead to another new high — close to $102 billion.

Some people may wonder how the budget designers can achieve a smaller deficit next year, especially with the administration's tax cut bill already past the House. In reality, their thinking follows a strange pattern. They believe a tax cut will instill so much vigor into the economy that revenues will rise sufficiently to cover the deficit.

It is difficult to measure, either in revenues or in the economy generally, just what people will do if a little extra money is placed in their hands. And with other provisions of the tax law tightened, any "extra money" from the tax cut proposal may amount to very little.

Though administration experts want to believe the tax cut will unleash a giant wave of new spending, the fact is that a lot of people might want to put more into savings or settle up some old bills.

With the situation so uncertain,

it is impossible to be sure that there will be any revenue increase at all. But the budget men appear determined to set the figure at around $3 billion.

Even if this comes through, the country will still be saddled with a deficit of close to $9 billion. This is bound to set the stage for new inflation, create new doubts about the stability of the dollar and postpone any action which could halt the balance of payments regarding foreign trade and money exchange.

Did the President really mean anything when he spoke of limitations on federal spending and a tighter rein on the budget? If actions would follow words, the answer is "yes." For the use of such words stressing government economy clashes with earlier outspoken theories that pointed to Washington spending as a sort of master solution.

Then, too, any effort to prevent the deficits from mushrooming year after year goes against the earlier "new frontier" notion that big deficits are nothing to worry about.

Of course, there are no deeds as yet to back up the more cautious words. An appeal to economy and tighter reins on federal spending is one thing. Curtailing of federal programs a year before election time is another.

By now, the administration probably realizes there is no mounting demand in the nation for a tax cut which does not consider the size of the budget.

It is hoped that the economic ideas of such men as Representative Otto Passman and Senators Harry F. Byrd and Barry Goldwater — so often termed reactionary by the administration — have had their impact on the people. Certainly, common sense shows that no one, either an individual or a government, can go on forever spending more than is coming in.

We wish that the administration could apply and hold a tighter rein on federal spending. But past accounts and accounting reveal the reins stretch to accommodate too many foreign and domestic programs.

Recognition Withdrawn

The United States has suspended all relations with the Central American government of Honduras following a military coup in that country. Last week, the same course of action followed a revolution in the Dominican Republic.

This withdrawal of recognition and foreign aid would be a sensible course for the United States to follow if it were universally applied. But it seems to apply only in those cases where a military revolt from within the country itself takes place.

Officials at the U. S. Embassy in Honduras said they were ordered to suspend all disbursements of foreign aid to that country. Programs there have totaled $18.2 million over the past two years. Similar action was also ordered in the Dominican Republic.

The action was described as "Normal procedure" when a government falls. It means the U.S. does not recognize the new military governments in Honduras and the Dominican Republic.

Yet such leaders as Ben Bella in Algeria and Sukarno in Indonesia were extended the hand of U. S. aid and recognition almost immediately.

Just why the United States official policy tries to make a distinction between one type dictatorship and another is one of the mysteries of the post World War II period.

Illegal Field Trip

With the smoke clearing from the demonstrations regarding House committee hearings of some of the U.S. students who traveled to Cuba against United States government orders, some legal steps have been taken.

A federal grand jury has indicted four men on charges of conspiring to organize an illegal trip to Castro Cuba.

The indictments were welcome news, although it is the opinion of many that some action should be taken against all 58 who survived the trip. Of the 59 young people — one was 33 years old — who made the trip, 58 completed it because of the death of one of the tourists in an Havana swimming pool.

Accused in the September 27 indictment were: Lee Levi Laub, 24; Phillip Abbot Luce, 26; Stefan

Martinot, 24, and Anatol Schlosser, 26, all of New York City.

The conspiracy charge noted 31 overt acts, including the attendance and participation in meetings in New York, Paris and Czechoslovakia.

Judging from the ages, we may conclude that the so-called "organizers" did play such a part since many of the students were still in their late "teens." Even so, however, die had already been cast by those students who made the trip. They were given every opportunity to understand that the trip was illegal and that they faced government penalties, but they went anyhow.

So at this point, as the wheels of justice began to turn slowly, we see a whole group of students who wish they had stayed home and studied.

Will The Wacky Wonders Never Cease?

ALLEN AND SCOTT

Senate Security Probe Sees Kennedy Brothers In Conflict

WASHINGTON — Senator Edward "Teddy" Kennedy has reluctantly taken his first politically explosive stand against his brother's administration.

The youngest of the Kennedy brothers secretly joined other members of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee in blasting the State Department for its laxity in handling security cases and withholding information from Congress.

In a confidential 10-page "Memorandum of Fact," which was hand-delivered to Secretary of State Rusk, the senators bluntly challenged the department's banning of security officers and other State Department personnel from testifying before the Senate Judiciary Internal Security Subcommittee.

They demanded that Secretary Rusk personally halt the department's move to oust Otepa, 48, chief of the evaluation division in the department's Office of Security, questioning the validity of the charges against him.

Citing chapter and verse of numerous instances of the department's laxness in handling security risk cases, the senator listed what they described as "untrue" statements made to the subcommittee by a high department official while under oath.

Before joining in the decision to send the explosive memorandum to Secretary Rusk, Senator Kennedy, a member of the full judiciary committee, argued against hastily action and suggested a delay for further investigation.

However, after this week's plea failed, young Kennedy later supported Senator James Eastland, chairman, in his request to press the showdown by sending the memorandum to Rusk.

SENATOR Eastland, who is also chairman of the Internal Security Subcommittee, demanded the head-on collision with the State Department after he learned that Rusk had silenced Otepa, his subcommittee's star witness, and was preparing to oust him because of information he had furnished the senators.

THE RUSK GAG — According to the memorandum, the gag order is contrary to Title V, Section 42, of the U. S. code which states that the right of any member of the classified civil service to furnish information to any member of Congress shall not be denied. This law was passed by Congress in 1948.

It also states that the order is in violation of concurrent resolutions of the House and Senate in 1953, which provide:

"Any person in government service should put loyalty to highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party or governmental department."

These congressional actions and laws have become the focal point in the senators' head-on conflict with the State Department's refusal to cooperate with Congress and in the department's handling of the Otepa case.

THIS approaching showdown between the congressional and executive branches of government presents the three Kennedy brothers with one of the most delicate problems of their political careers.

As the lines are now drawn, the controversy pits "Teddy" against his brothers, President Kennedy and Attorney General Robert Kennedy, since they are privately supporting the State Department.

Despite this embarrassing position, Senator Kennedy has secretly kept both of his brothers informed, as best he can, of the Senate investigation of State Department security problems.

Although not a member of the Internal Security Subcommittee, he has used his privilege as a member of the full Judiciary Committee to sit in on the subcommittee's executive sessions.

When one State Department employee, who used to work in the office of President Kennedy when he was a senator, was questioned by subcommittee members, "Teddy" was on hand for the entire hearing, taking voluminous notes.

AS REPORTED in an earlier column, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Security John F. Reilly, a close personal friend of Attorney General Kennedy, is one of the central figures in the department's surveillance of Otepa.

This operation of Reilly was arranged through the office of the Attorney General by Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland, after he discovered Otepa was investigating a number of persons Cleveland had brought into the State Department.

Otepa, one of the department's outstanding security officers, handled the controversial probe of Foreign Service officer William Wieland and his role in our disastrous Cuban policy during the late '50s and early '60s.

THE WIELAND case, which is under investigation by the subcommittee, came to a climax last year when President Kennedy personally defended the State Department official during a nationally televised press conference.

If Secretary Rusk doesn't comply with the senators' memorandum, Senator Kennedy will face another "moment of truth." Senator Eastland has warned Rusk that if the subcommittee's demands are not met, he will ask the Judiciary Committee to vote to release the document.

Great Britain's Shadow Cabinet

WASHINGTON — Harold Wilson, the prime minister of Britain's "shadow cabinet," has already received the blessing of the Kennedy Administration. To hear New Frontier ideologues talk, he is the greatest British invention since the Spitfire. And it has been made known by the White House circle that it likes Mr. Wilson and admires his brilliance.

Brilliant he is, but there are aspects to his character and to his program which, it might be assumed, would give our leaders a certain amount of concern.

BARRING A tremendous reversal of public opinion in Great Britain, Mr. Wilson and his Labor Party will take over the government at the next election. And with them comes a new foreign policy that will make France's Charles de Gaulle look like an American stooge. For what Mr. Wilson is quietly working for is a "grand coalition" of socialist governments which will edge the United States out of Europe and set up a neutralist counterforce to the so-called Western alliance.

The British Labor Party is counting on a victory by the Socialist Mayor of Berlin, Willy Brandt, who is off and running for Chancellor Adenauer's job. Few are certain of Herr Brandt's electoral future now that the Christian Democrats have begun to show sudden new energy. But Mr. Wilson believes that an Anglo-German bloc can pin the tail on Uncle Sam's donkey.

AS OF THIS writing, he has not yet gotten Mayor Brandt's assent to this kind of Yankee baiting. The West Germans, moreover, do not see eye to eye with the Labor Party's open support for the demilitarization of Central Europe. Being somewhat closer to the Communists than Mr. Wilson's Cloud Nine, they are more practical.

Although you will never read this in State Department handouts, "shadow prime minister" Wilson is disposed to pull his country out of the NATO alliance and to come to a bilateral agreement with the Soviet Union on such matters as atomic control (the British socialists tend to a policy of unilateral disarmament disguised as a step toward the "relaxation of tensions.") Mr. Wilson argues that by maintaining its nuclear force, Great Britain has lost its independence — one of those zany twists of logic which these days pass for statesmanship. THE SOCIALISM that Mr. Wilson triumphantly sees as "sweeping Europe" will create a new climate of hostility to the United States. By insisting on the recognition of the Communist regime in East Germany, it will cause strife among the NATO powers. And it will bestow upon those nations swept away by his tide the kind of economic "solutions" to problems that almost bankrupted the British in the postwar years.

That Mr. Wilson, like much of the British Labor leadership since the death of "shadow prime minister" Hugh Gaitskill, is pretty starchy about Americans can hardly be considered a secret in official Washington. That the State Department knows where he stands on issues affecting our security is also fact. Yet by beaming at his every word, the Administration seems to be offering its support (and undercutting Prime Minister Macmillan) in highly dubious fashion.

THE STATE Department also knows that Mr. Wilson frowns on the Western alliance as a consolidation of military power against the Soviet colossus. This, to the fussy Laborites, is a reactionary attitude. The sole value of the alliance, they and Mr. Wilson believe, is as a debating society which can arrive at "understandings" with the Soviets.

What the ambitious and ironic Harold Wilson will do to Britain's economy is another question. He is already talking of ushering in the age of automation by a vast "planning" program which will "create ten million new jobs" in the next years. If he means an expansion of the bureaucracy, he may succeed. But no government has yet been able to spur the growth of the economy by "creating" jobs. Employment rises for a complex of factors, but government spending, as we are finding out, is the costliest method and the one least likely to succeed.

GREAT BRITAIN'S economy is not Great Britain's problem — not ours. But Great Britain's foreign policy directly affects the United States. The spread of socialist governments, led by a hostile Britain, means only trouble for the U. S. — and it can be the signal to the Soviets to put aside their jolly "peaceful co-existence" for a new version of Stalin's adventurism.

Soviet Wheat Deal Really No Surprise

WASHINGTON, the news that Soviet Russia wants to buy wheat and flour in tremendous quantities from two unfriendly North American countries may have surprised most Americans, but not the principal officials of the Department of Agriculture in the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

News stories in recent years have hinted that the Kremlin would like to buy foodstuffs from our government, rather than private suppliers, but the deal ear they encountered in Washington left no doubt that overtures would be fruitless. With the cold war still at a peak, and the United States attitude toward Communism a subject of political controversy, there is no record of any actual move in that direction.

BUT THE Russians did in fact sound out our government, and the story, previously known to very few, is an interesting one. It deals with a former Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, and a slip of the tongue in a farm speech he made in Moorhead, Minnesota in the late summer of 1953.

In that speech, Benson revealed that Soviet Russia had made a bid to buy lard and animal fats, then in short supply there, and that the offer had been discussed by the Eisenhower cabinet.

Benson, who often stuck his head in the lion's mouth, lost his temper at Moorhead when a heckler shouted "What have you done to get new markets for the farmer?"

BENSON shouted back "I have in my pocket a copy of a recommendation to the President that he consider Mr. Gromyko's proposal that we sell farm products to Russia!"

He stopped abruptly, quickly concluded his speech which was heard by 5,000 farmers and later admitted to friends, "I shouldn't have said that, should I?"

Later he told a few close friends the background of his slip. After a speech in the United Nations assembly by Henry Cabot Lodge then United States ambassador to the U. N., in which Lodge spoke for expanded world trade, Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet spokesman, had come to him with the challenge, "You talk a lot about trade. Why not trade some with us?" Then he revealed that the USSR had a heavy shortage of lard and animal fats, which could have serious effects on their internal economy.

Lodge was non-committal, but according to Benson, immediately got in touch with him.

THIS WAS only a short time after President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, when Vice President Richard M. Nixon was attempting to handle the White House load. At Benson's urging he called a cabinet meeting, where the question of selling Russia the fats she needed was discussed. Benson pointed out that U. S. farmers had a glut of hogs, which the proposed Russian deals could reduce.

It was decided that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, soon to be in Geneva for a foreign minister's pre-summit conference should talk to Gromyko about such a deal.

Benson's speech at Moorhead received no press wire coverage and local reporters apparently showed no interest, so the revelation went unrecorded.

At the time of the incident, USSR was still undergoing the shake up of the communist government which followed Stalin's death in 1953. Relations between Washington and Moscow were not cordial. Gromyko's approach, as reported by Benson could only have been with Kremlin sanction. But there was never any report by Dulles.

HOW MANY other approaches have been made is top secret, but the White House has been aware for the past ten years that Russia would like to buy farm products from us. Up until now, neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy, both aware of this potential market have been receptive because of the unfavorable political reaction their advisers, including leaders in Congress have told them would be inevitable.

Need For Tighter Rein

Possibly to make the administration - backed tax cut proposal sound financially reasonable, President Kennedy has said that the next fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1964, — promises an "ever-tighter rein" on federal spending.

Somehow, the "new frontier" officials point out, the deficit for the fiscal year 1965 will be held below that of this fiscal year's expected $9.2 billion in red ink. If saying this indicates a determination to cut expenses along with a cut in taxes, then we must express a degree of admiration. But cold figures and past history take virtually all the warmth out of our feelings toward administration fiscal policy.

There was, for example, Mr. Kennedy's speech of last January in which he said that he was going to "limit severely" his proposals for spending during the current fiscal year. But when these limitations were turned into figures, the U.S. taxpayers saw the government expenditures raised by $4.5 billion to a record high of $98.8 billion. And it develops that the call for an "ever-tighter rein" next year is expected to lead to another new high — close to $102 billion.

Some people may wonder how the budget designers can achieve a smaller deficit next year, especially with the administration's tax cut bill already past the House. In reality, their thinking follows a strange pattern. They believe a tax cut will instill so much vigor into the economy that revenues will rise sufficiently to cover the deficit.

It is difficult to measure, either in revenues or in the economy generally, just what people will do if a little extra money is placed in their hands. And with other provisions of the tax law tightened, any "extra money" from the tax cut proposal may amount to very little.

Though administration experts want to believe the tax cut will unleash a giant wave of new spending, the fact is that a lot of people might want to put more into savings or settle up some old bills.

With the situation so uncertain,

Recognition Withdrawn

The United States has suspended all relations with the Central American government of Honduras following a military coup in that country. Last week, the same course of action followed a revolution in the Dominican Republic.

This withdrawal of recognition and foreign aid would be a sensible course for the United States to follow if it were universally applied. But it seems to apply only in those cases where a military revolt from within the country itself takes place.

Officials at the U. S. Embassy in Honduras said they were ordered to suspend all disbursements of foreign aid to that country. Programs there have totaled $18.2 million over the past two

Illegal Field Trip

With the smoke clearing from the demonstrations regarding House committee hearings of some of the U.S. students who traveled to Cuba against United States government orders, some legal steps have been taken.

A federal grand jury has indicted four men on charges of conspiring to organize an illegal trip to Castro Cuba.

The indictments were welcome news, although it is the opinion of many that some action should be taken against all 58 who survived the trip. Of the 59 young people — one was 33 years old — who made the trip, 58 completed it because of the death of one of the tourists in an Havana swimming pool.

Accused in the September 27 indictment were: Lee Levi Lull, 24; Phillip Abbot Luce, 26; Stefan

it is impossible to be sure that there will be any revenue increase at all. But the budget men appear determined to set the figure at around $3 billion.

Even if this comes through, the country will still be saddled with a deficit of close to $9 billion. This is bound to set the stage for new inflation, create new doubts about the stability of the dollar and postpone any action which could halt the balance of payments regarding foreign trade and money exchange.

Did the President really mean anything when he spoke of limitations on federal spending and a tighter rein on the budget? If actions would follow words, the answer is "yes." For the use of such words stressing government economy clashes with earlier outspoken theories that pointed to Washington spending as a sort of master solution.

Then, too, any effort to prevent the deficits from mushrooming year after year goes against the earlier "new frontier" notion that big deficits are nothing to worry about.

Of course, there are no deeds as yet to back up the more cautious words. An appeal to economy and tighter reins on federal spending is one thing. Curtailing of federal programs a year before election time is another.

By now, the administration probably realizes there is no mounting demand in the nation for a tax cut which does not consider the size of the budget. It is hoped that the economic ideas of such men as Representative Otto Passman and Senators Harry F. Byrd and Barry Goldwater — so often termed reactionary by the administration — have had their impact on the people. Certainly, common sense shows that no one, either an individual or a government, can go on forever spending more than is coming in.

We wish that the administration could apply and hold a tighter rein on federal spending. But past accounts and accounting reveal the reins stretch to accommodate too many foreign and domestic programs.

Similar action was also ordered in the Dominican Republic.

The action was described as "Normal procedure" when a government falls. It means the U.S. does not recognize the new military governments in Honduras and the Dominican Republic.

Yet such leaders as Ben Bella in Algeria and Sukarno in Indonesia were extended the hand of U. S. aid and recognition almost immediately.

Just why the United States official policy tries to make a distinction between one type dictatorship and another is one of the mysteries of the post World War II period.

Martinot, 24, and Anatol Schlosser, 26, all of New York City.

The conspiracy charge noted 31 overt acts, including the attendance and participation in meetings in New York, Paris and Czechoslovakia.

Judging from the ages, we may conclude that the so-called "organizers" did play such a part since many of the students were still in their late "teens." Even so, however, die had already been cast by those students who made the trip. They were given every opportunity to understand that the trip was illegal and that they faced government penalties, but they went anyway.

So at this point, as the wheels of justice began to turn slowly, we see a whole group of students who wish they had stayed home and studied.

Senate Security Probe Sees Kennedy Brothers In Conflict

WASHINGTON — Senator Edward "Teddy" Kennedy has reluctantly taken his first politically explosive stand against his brother's administration.

The youngest of the Kennedy brothers secretly joined other members of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee in blasting the State Department for its laxity in handling security cases and withholding information from Congress.

In a confidential 10-page "Memorandum of Fact," which was hand-delivered to Secretary of State Rusk, the senators bluntly challenged the department's banning of security officers and other State Department personnel from testifying before the Senate Judiciary Internal Security Subcommittee.

THEY DEMANDED that Secretary Rusk personally halt the department's move to oust Otto Otepka, 48, chief of the evaluation division in the department's Office of Security, questioning the validity of the charges against him.

Citing chapter and verse of numerous instances of the department's laxness in handling security risk cases, the senator listed what they described as "untrue" statements made to the subcommittee by a high department official while under oath.

Before joining in the decision to send the explosive memorandum to Secretary Rusk, Senator Kennedy, a member of the full Judiciary Committee, argued against hasty action and suggested a delay for further investigation.

However, after this week's plea failed, young Kennedy later supported Senator James Eastland, chairman, in his request to press the showdown by sending the memorandum to Rusk.

SENATOR Eastland, who is also chairman of the Internal Security Subcommittee, demanded the head-on collision with the State Department after he learned that Rusk had silenced Otepka, his subcommittee's star witness, and was preparing to oust him because of information he had furnished the senators.

THE RUSK GAG — According to the memorandum, the gag order is contrary to Title V, Section 42, of the U. S. code which states that the right of any member of the classified civil service to furnish information to any member of Congress shall not be denied. This law was passed by Congress in 1948.

It also states that the order is in violation of concurrent resolutions of the House and Senate in 1958, which provide:

"Any person in government service should put loyalty to highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party or governmental department."

These congressional actions and laws have become the focal point in the senators' head-on conflict with the State Department's refusal to cooperate with Congress and in the department's handling of the Otepka case.

THIS approaching showdown between the congressional and executive branches of government presents the three Kennedy brothers with one of the most delicate problems of their political careers. As the lines are now drawn, the controversy pits "Teddy" against his brothers, President Kennedy and Attorney General Robert Kennedy, since they are privately supporting the State Department.

Despite this embarrassing position, Senator Kennedy has secretly kept both of his brothers informed, as best he can, of the Senate investigation of State Department security problems.

AS REPORTED in an earlier column, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Security John F. Reilly, a close personal friend of Attorney General Kennedy, is one of the central figures in the department's surveillance of Otepka.

If Secretary Rusk doesn't comply with the senators' memorandum, Senator Kennedy will face another "moment of truth." Senator Eastland has warned Rusk that if the subcommittee's demands are not met, he will ask the Judiciary Committee to vote to release the document.

FCC Reserves UHF Channel For Astronomy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Radio astronomers will have exclusive use of UHF television channel 37 in the United States for the next 10 years.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Friday ordered Channel 37 reserved for use by radio astronomers until Jan. 1, 1974. It had originally been proposed that the channel be reserved only until Jan. 1, 1969.

The commission said the channel was not being withdrawn from the table of television broadcast assignments but would not be assigned for broadcast purposes during the 10-year period "to aid and protect radio astronomy."

The FCC said it intends to ask Canada and Mexico to also reserve channel 37 in those countries for radio astronomy.

The commission also said it would recommend to an international conference in Geneva that this channel be reserved for radio astronomy on a world-wide basis for the 10-year period.

Paterson, N.J., and Melbourne, Fla., had filed applications for broadcast use of channel 37. The FCC said it would propose a replacement for the Paterson assignment in its contemplated revision of the UHF assignment table.

Rocky Finishes European Tour On Happy Note

PARIS (UPI)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller ended his 12-day European tour Friday and flew home optimistic about the future of the Western defense alliance.

"The destinies of our countries are linked in communal solidarity," he told newsmen at Orly Airport, adding, "I am optimistic about the Atlantic alliance."

Rockefeller met Friday with Premier Georges Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville then left for Orly field trailed by a group of French newsmen whom he invited to visit the New York World's Fair in 1964-65.

He has declined comment after each of his series of talks with West European leaders except to say the conversations were private. At no time during his six-day tour did he criticize President Kennedy's foreign policy, saying at one point "I think it is the duty of every American abroad to support the policies of the government."

Rockefeller, a potential Republican presidential candidate, spent 12 days in England, Italy, Germany, France and Belgium.

Youth Suffers Minor Injuries In West Monroe

A 17-year-old West Monroe youth sustained minor injuries in a two-car collision at Claiborne and Cypress streets Friday evening.

The boy, Johnny P. Scaccia, of 131 Fairlane St., sustained minor injuries when he struck another car while both vehicles moved north on Cypress Street. He was treated at a local hospital.

Investigating West Monroe officers said he collided with a car driven by Negro Almina A. Boley, 73, 2205 Cypress St., West Monroe. She pulled out of a driveway at 2104 Cypress Street just prior to being hit.

West Monroe officers charged both drivers with reckless driving. The collision occurred at 6:20 p.m.

Other law agencies recorded a number of minor accidents, but no injuries resulted.

3 Orleans Men Held On Charge Of Looting Farm

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Three New Orleans men were held Friday on a charge they stole $11,750 worth of farm equipment and household articles from a farm near Carriere, Miss.

Donald H. Acquin, 36, Irvin Francis St., Pe. 30, and Edward O. Daniels, 40, were booked on charges of burglary and grand larceny.

Officers said the equipment, including a tractor valued at $4,200, was stolen from the A. C. Miller farm last month. Part of the loot has been recovered, they said.

Extradition proceedings were pending against the trio.

The New York archbishop led the conservative attack in what may be the first major liberal-conservative dispute of the second session of the council.

Cardinal Spellman, making his first speech of the current session, listed a number of reasons why he believed the proposal contained in the draft schema "De Ecclesia" (about the church) should not even be discussed.

The proposal for a diaconate which is ordained and might be non-celibate is favored by many liberals, including those from the missionary countries and in South America and Asia where there are serious shortages of priests.

Cardinal Spellman said the proposal is a "disciplinary which has no place in a dogmatic constitution—there is even some doubt as to whether it should be discussed at all."

Such a diaconate would require special training, he said, and "this necessarily could inflict grave hardships in localities where the church is already encountering difficulties in maintaining seminaries for candidates for the priesthood."

"There is the further consideration that vocations to the priesthood might fall off, especially if these permanent deacons were not bound by the law of celibacy," the cardinal said.

Several other council fathers who spoke on the proposal today backed Cardinal Spellman. Proponents are expected to speak when the session is resumed Monday.

Observers said the text of the proposal indicated that it may be up to the local bishops whether the deacons may be married.

Such an order of deacons existed in the early church and is mentioned in the New Testament but was abolished centuries ago.

Cardinal Spellman noted this in his speech and said: "Not everything old is good."

He suggested a careful study of the reasons why the order was abolished.

At present, the duties of the deacon in the Roman Catholic Church are to minister at the altar and to preach. He also can administer Holy Communion and baptize with permission in cases of necessity.

The diaconate generally is considered a step toward priesthood. However, in the Eastern Rite churches, many deacons never become priests but assist as curates in the parishes.

He reported Mrs. Tidwell and David Brin, weighing nine pounds and seven ounces, were doing well. The Tidwells now have two boys and two girls.

Russian Paper Views Treaty As 'Relaxing'

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Friday said Big Three agreement to outlaw nuclear weapons in space would be "a new act to relax international tensions."

The newspaper was commenting on the announcement in New York that agreement in principle had been reached in talks among Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Minister Lord Home.

"Such a pact," the government publication said, "would be a real roadblock in the nuclear arms race."

Izvestia said a ban-the-bomb in space treaty would create "the best conditions for using space to benefit all peoples."

Friday was the sixth anniversary of the launching of the first Sputnik and the Soviet press was filled with laudatory statements about the Communist cosmic achievements.

Weather Bureau Drops Plans On Nimbus Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau gave up Friday on the plan to develop the Nimbus satellite for an operational system of robot weathermen in space.

It had been intended as a second generation spacecraft to take over on a regular working basis behind the experimental Tiros weather satellite.

A joint announcement from the bureau and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the Weather Bureau had decided against putting any more money into Nimbus.

It added, however, that the two agencies will continue working together for development of an operational satellite with a long working life. It predicted that ultimately the need for such a device will be met at considerable saving of money. Under the announced plan the Tiros design will be taken as a basis.

NASA said it will continue development of the Nimbus spacecraft for flight tests.

New York Still Stays At Head Of People List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau listed New York today as the No. 1 state in population as of July 1, but a bureau official said cautiously that there is enough room for error to put California in the top spot.

The "provisional estimate" gave New York State a total of 18,000,000 although the bureau spokesman said this easily could be wiped out when more accurate statistics are received.

In any case, the spokesman said, there appears little doubt California will be on top by mid-1964 if present trends are maintained.

Some months ago Californians, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown, claimed their state had replaced New York at the head of the list.

"We are familiar with the estimates prepared by the State of California," the spokesman said, "and we have great respect for their statistics."

However, we are not sure what figures they have been using for New York State.

The bureau gave California's population as 17,590,000, and that of New York as 17,708,000.

The Census Bureau used up-to-date figures for births, deaths and other major factors, but had to make a rough estimate of migration between states.

Total U.S. population was given as 188,531,000, an increase of about 3.3 million since July 1, 1962. Since the April 1, 1960 census, the nation had added 9,208,000 or 5.1 per cent.

Pennsylvania was third in population with 11,424,000, Texas fourth with 10,323,000 and Illinois fifth with 10,182,000.

On Oct. 26, he will attend a ground breaking ceremony for the Robert Frost Memorial Library at Amherst University in Massachusetts.

He will attend a testimonial dinner Nov. 8 in his honor by the Protestant Council of New York.

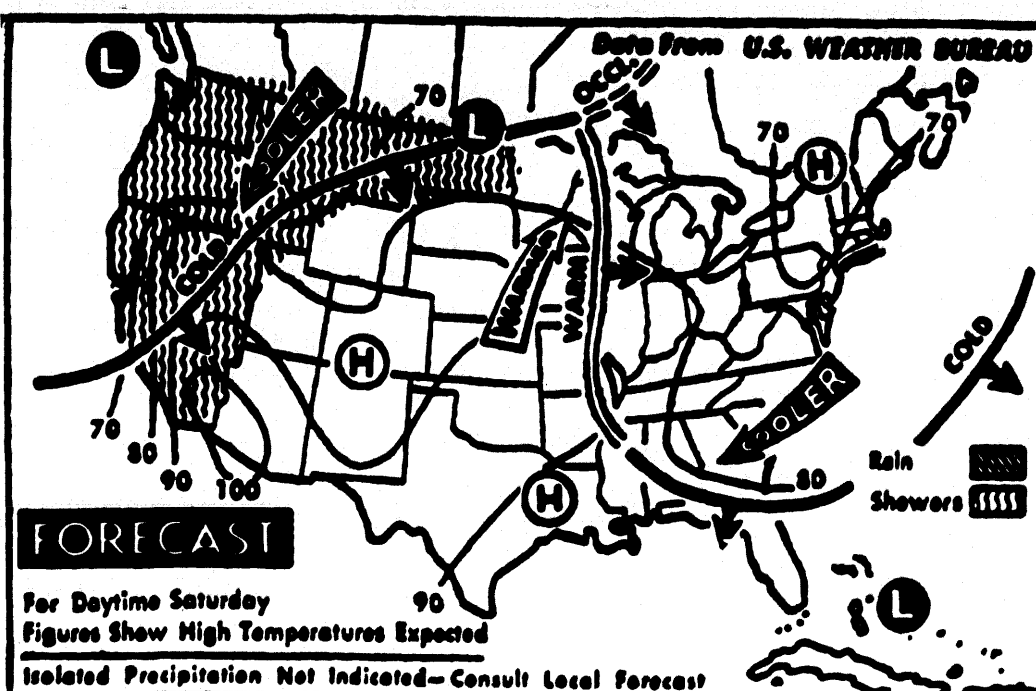

On Nov. 18, he will address the Florida Chamber of Commerce in the afternoon at Tampa and will speak before the Inter-American Press Association in Miami that evening.

He will then embark on a two-day speaking tour of Texas Nov. 21-22.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will give a number of speeches in Texas. He said he would announce later the cities the President will visit.

SHIP COMPANY DONATION

Metropolitan Opera Comes Into Money

NEW YORK (AP)—A steamship company has lifted hearts in the world of culture by handing the Metropolitan Opera a check for $135,000. The money will pay for staging an opera.

Several art sources said they could not recall the last time a corporation wrote a check to sponsor an opera or a ballet. Business helps support the arts but most corporations do it indirectly, through foundations.

The Metropolitan said the check was presented the opera Wednesday by American Export and Isbrandtsen lines and will underwrite the cost of producing the opera "Aida." The Verdi opera opens the Metropolitan's 79th season Oct. 14.

A spokesman for the steamship company described the gift as "good business." The line has 44 passenger and cargo ships sailing under the American flag between the United States and Italy.

"Our passengers are people who go to the opera," the spokesman said. "The head of the line, Adm. John M. Will, (USN-Ret.), felt it made good business sense."

"The Metropolitan said it was the first time a corporation sponsored one of its productions."

"American Export's generous act has significance far beyond the immediate and pressing need of the Metropolitan," said Anthony A. Bliss, president of the Metropolitan Opera Association, Inc.

"We hope other corporations will follow this splendid example and usher in a new era of subsidy for the arts."

John White, associate director of the New York City Opera Co., second in size to the Metropolitan, said: "It should happen to us."

An official of the New York City Ballet at City Center said no company had ever directly sponsored one of its ballets.

"Once we were doing a ballet called 'Filling Station' and we tried to get gas station companies to underwrite it," she said. "We were turned down."

More Companies Up Prices For Steel Products

NEW YORK (UPI)—More steel companies Friday climbed aboard the higher steel price bandwagon.

Republic Steel Corp., said it is increasing prices $5 a ton on carbon steel plate, certain size extras in wire rods and on hot-rolled bars. Prices were also boosted $4 a ton on structural shapes.

Armco Steel advanced prices $5 a ton on carbon steel plate, $7 a ton on alloy plate and $4 a ton on structural shapes.

Inland Steel, a big factor in the Midwest market, posted increases of $5 a ton on carbon steel plates, floor plates, tube rounds and alloy bars.

U. S. Steel Corp. Thursday joined Bethlehem and Lukens in raising prices on plate and structural steels and other items.

SHIP COMPANY DONATION

Metropolitan Opera Comes Into Money

NEW YORK (AP)—A steamship company has lifted hearts in the world of culture by handing the Metropolitan Opera a check for $135,000. The money will pay for staging an opera.

Several art sources said they could not recall the last time a corporation wrote a check to sponsor an opera or a ballet. Business helps support the arts but most corporations do it indirectly, through foundations.

The Metropolitan said the check was presented to the opera Wednesday by American Export and Isbrandtsen lines and will underwrite the cost of producing the opera "Aida." The Verdi opera opens the Metropolitan's 79th season Oct. 14.

A spokesman for the steamship company described the gift as "good business." The line has 44 passenger and cargo ships sailing under the American flag between the United States and Italy.

"Our passengers are people who go to the opera," the spokesman said. "The head of the line, Adm. John M. Will, (USN-Ret.), felt it made good business sense."

The Metropolitan said it was the first time a corporation sponsored one of its productions. "American Export's generous act has significance far beyond the immediate and pressing need of the Metropolitan," said Anthony A. Bliss, president of the Metropolitan Opera Association, Inc. "We hope other corporations will follow this splendid example and usher in a new era of subsidy for the arts."

John White, associate director of the New York City Opera Co., second in size to the Metropolitan, said: "It should happen to us."

An official of the New York City Ballet at City Center said no company had ever directly sponsored one of its ballets.

"Once we were doing a ballet called 'Filling Station' and we tried to get gas station companies to underwrite it," she said. "We were turned down."

More Companies Up Prices For Steel Products

NEW YORK (UPI)—More steel companies Friday climbed aboard the higher steel price bandwagon.

Republic Steel Corp. said it is increasing prices $5 a ton on carbon steel plate, certain size extras in wire rods and on hot-rolled bars. Prices were also boosted $4 a ton on structural shapes.

Armco Steel advanced prices $5 a ton on carbon steel plate, $7 a ton on alloy plate and $4 a ton on structural shapes.

Inland Steel, a big factor in the Midwest market, posted increases of $5 a ton on carbon steel plates, floor plates, tube rounds and alloy bars.

U.S. Steel Corp. Thursday joined Bethlehem and Lukens in raising prices on plate and structural steels and other items.

Woman Solon To Take Look At Sugar Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The female chairman of a House consumers subcommittee announced Friday she will take a sharp look at sugar prices that shot upward recently even though large supplies are on hand.

Rep. Lenor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., said she would ask representatives of the sugar industry to explain the situation at hearings later this month.

The increase thus far has apparently been confined to raw sugar prices. They have risen from 6.5 cents a pound a month ago to 8.02 cents on Sept. 25 and 8.5 cents on Oct. 2.

The Agriculture Department said the recent Soviet deal to buy $500 million worth of wheat from Canada was a factor in the price jump.

A department statement explained: "This news spurred the advance in sugar values on the theory that if the grain crop was damaged, the sugar beet crop also may have suffered."

However, department officials recalled that on Sept. 25, a Soviet publication reported that Russian sugar beet factories would have greater stocks on hand than a year before.

In addition, the department noted that marketable supplies of sugar in the United States this year total about 10,350,000 tons, or 550,000 tons more than annual consumption.

Further, it said, larger crops of mainland beet and cane sugar are about to be processed.

Mrs. Sullivan said that in view of the record harvests and large imports "it is hard to understand why prices in the United States should be rising again."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

BROADWAY GRAPEVINE... Princess Grace of Monaco, who not long ago promised Alfred Hitchcock to do another film and then changed her mind, may be persuaded to make that return to the flicks. At least her friends believe she will.

When Grace decided to bow out of the cast of "Marina," various reasons were given. Prince Ranier was supposed to be against it, her subjects in Monaco didn't like the idea, and it would take her away from her children. But the new offer is said to stipulate that she could make the picture in England, just a couple of plane hours away from her palace on the Riviera.

Christina Vettore Austin, reportedly the wife - to - be of Henry Ford, is getting the movie star treatment from the European publications. One Italian tabloid, under the witty title of "Ford e la Fuoricserie" (Ford and the custom body) devoted a whole page to pictures of Christina undulating the brassiere part of her bikini and lying in the sand with only brief panties covering her curvaceous torso.

Joe Levine has purchased Harold Robbins' next book, "The Adventurers," giving the author a record-breaking guarantee of $1,000,000 before a line has been written. The deal was made with Trident Press.

practice with an office in Rockefeller Plaza. He is responsible for the conviction of some of the world's most notorious narcotics peddlers.

Vaughn Meader's new act at the Blue Angel, opening Oct. 15, will find the comedian working with two assistants - Donna Jean Young and Jim Connell. It's the first time he's worked in Manhattan as anything but a single. And there will be very little JFK in the act. Quiz questions for historians: Did nuns cut off their hair when they took their vows in the early 16th Century? If not, John Osborn's interpretation of "Luther" is in the clear, if rather distressing to Lutherans. But if they did, how does the author, or the director, explain the abrupt and gloriously hirsute appearance of the nun Luther suddenly marries? She not only produces an infant from left field, but she displays a fine head of hair - flowing locks, in fact - that would take at least five years, perhaps a lifetime, to grow. It is the longest hair this side of Blanche Thebom, but the author (although elsewhere given to unduly detailed exposition) doesn't bother to explain it in the text. One can only assume that she cheated in one aspect of her deportment as a nun as well as another.

There's such a demand for tickets for Jerry Vale's Carnegie Hall Concert on Nov. 15, he may give a second one on the same night. One of the town's finest restaurateurs, Gogi Tschitznadel (of Gogi's on E. 56th St.) has been asked to run a place at the World's Fair called Gogi's Vodka Bar.

Rosemary Clooney is in town looking beautiful and enviably slim. Another singer - chum of Rosie's - has been reported "in hiding" - but at least one with a good eye thinks Phyllis McGuire is in New York and was relaxing in a local beauty salon just a couple of days ago.

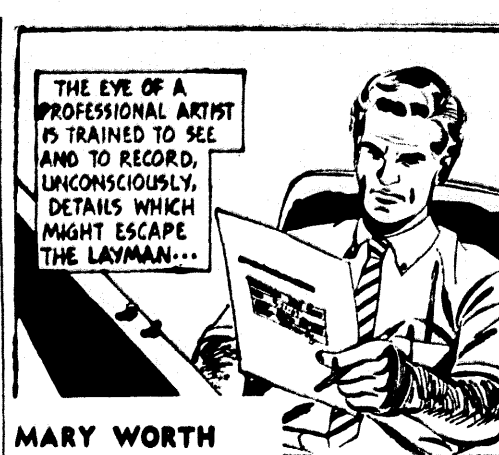

"Never Too Late," which opened this week in London, was belted by the critics. Peter Lewis of the Daily Mail summed it up this way:

"There is one reasonable joke near the end, but I won't tell it to you because your aunt may get you tickets." ... Speculators are asking $150 a pair for the opening day seats to the Dodgers-Yankees game. They think Koufax-versus-Ford will make it the greatest pitching duel of modern baseball. ... Personal to Bennett Cerf: Green suede pipes (for males) will be very big this Fall. Don't ask Phyllis to put it on her Christmas list, I'll buy one for you.

How To Keep Well

Theodore R. Van Dellen

PRESSURE CARD GAMES AND BLOOD

Many people get so excited playing cards in the evening, they have trouble sleeping. Others are calm and enjoy poker or gin rummy, but cannot sleep because they are unable to forget the evening's events and get all steamed up as they mull over their mistakes. I am a member of the second group and, altho I enjoy cards, I'm sure it is not worth it.

A unique experiment was conducted on 30 men and women playing in a contest held by the American Duplicate Bridge association. The investigation was done by a bridge enthusiast, Dr. Milton Ende of Petersburg, Va. He was interested because, on several occasions during the contest, he noted a sudden pounding of the heart and flushing of the face.

He decided to test pulse, blood pressure, and respiration after every second hand. In 16, the diastolic pressure rose to levels within the higher than normal range. The pulse rate went to 100 or more in 11 players. These increases occurred during the actual play of the hand rather than while bidding or defensive play. Respiration was not influenced; and no changes were noted in the electrocardiogram of 10 of the bridge fans who agreed to have this test.

The majority of contestants had trouble sleeping the night of the game altho some said they slept better on nights they played well.

The practical aspects of this novel research project are worth mentioning. In the first place, some people take bridge too seriously and tension builds up from what is supposed to be a form of relaxation. Only a few hours of sleep may be lost but playing under stress is a potential hazard for anyone with high blood pressure or heart disease.

WE HAVE MANY ARTERIES
C. D. writes: If a person has hardening of the arteries, does this mean he has heart disease?

REPLY
Not unless the coronary arteries are plugged or narrowed to such an extent that the heart muscle is not receiving enough blood to work efficiently. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hardening of various arteries.

AEROSOL THERAPY

S. M. S. writes: What is the aerosol treatment of bronchitis?

REPLY
The individual inhales a fine mist containing medications that:
1. Open up the passageways (bronchodilators).
2. Liquefy the secretions (mucolytic agents).
3. Kill the causative micro-organisms (antibiotics).

LUMP ON INSTEP

A. B. writes: Since childhood, I have had a lump the size of a walnut on one instep. Can it be removed successfully?

REPLY
Yes. Most of these growths are exostoses and need not be removed unless bothersome. A lump of this size must create a problem when walking, standing, or buying shoes. Nothing more need be said.

SULFA REACTIONS

P. B. writes: Can anything be taken with a sulfa drug to counteract the side effects?

REPLY
Nausea and indigestion can be minimized by taking the tablets after eating or with milk. In addition, drinking large amounts of water helps prevent the chemical from crystallizing in the urine and forming stones.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International
The question before President Lincoln in early October 1863 was:
How can a President and commander-in-chief of the nation's armed forces compel his generals to fight?

And secondarily, if the generals did fight, as happened on occasion, how could he force them to keep on fighting until the Union, with its superior man power and industrial might, won the Civil War?

The question was not new. It had plagued Lincoln since Fort Sumter, especially in the eastern war theater. He could call the role of many failures and few victories — McDowell's reluctance to fight the first battle of Bull Run (Manassas); McClellan's tardiness in launching the 1862 Peninsula campaign; his failure to follow up the battle of Antietam (Sharpsburg); Burnside's rashness at Fredericksburg; Hooker's ineptitude at Chancellorsville; Meade's slowness in pursuit of Lee after Gettysburg.

The problem had become chronic. Lincoln's homemade remedies were ineffective. Some of his remedies had been no better than expedient, some seemingly almost casual. More often than not, Lincoln's choice between generals to head the big eastern Army of the Potomac was between bad and worse, not between good and better.

Now in this October of 1863 his problem of leadership was doubled. Not one general was in trouble, but two.

Maj. Gen. George G. Meade had followed the army of Gen. Robert E. Lee back into Virginia after the battle of Gettysburg but had not come to grips with it by October.

Lincoln became impatient in mid-September and wrote to Army Commander Henry W. Halleck that Meade should be moving on Lee.

In due time Meade replied that "I can get a battle out of Lee under very disadvantageous circumstances . . . which is not likely to result in any very decided advantage, even in case I should be victorious. In this view I am reluctant to run the risks without the positive sanction of the government."

Mrs. Helen Jo Copeland sold to Bobby A. Clark lot 19 of block 49A of the Ouachita Cotton Mills Second Addition for $150 cash and assumption of a mortgage in the balance of $9,000.

Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton sent the dispatch to Lincoln "for reflection overnight." The President then analyzed the whole subject of the Army of the Potomac and Meade in a letter to Halleck.

"For a battle, then, General Meade has three men to General Lee's two. Yet it having been determined that choosing ground and standing on the defensive gives so great an advantage that the three cannot safely attack the two, the three are left simply standing on the defensive also."

"If the enemy's 60,000 are sufficient to keep our 90,000 away from Richmond, why by the same rule, may not 40,000 of ours keep their 60,000 away from Washington, leaving us 50,000 to put to some other use?"

Secretary of Navy Gideon Welles, talking to Lincoln about this time, quoted him as saying that Meade was not doing anything and did not want to do anything.

"It is the same old story of this Army of the Potomac," Welles quoted Lincoln. "Imbecility, inefficiency — don't want to do . . ."

"Oh, it is terrible, terrible this weakness, this indifference of our Potomac generals, with such armies of good and brave men."

A little later Meade was in Washington and reported to his wife that he was courteously received. He offered to quit as army commander if either Lincoln or Halleck wished.

Halleck told him, Meade continued, "there is no such good luck for me . . ."

But Halleck and Lincoln urged that "I should try and do something."

Finally on Oct. 16, Lincoln wrote to Halleck and made an offer to Meade that he never had made to a general before.

"If General Meade now can attack him (Lee) on a field no worse than equal for us, and will do so with all the skill and courage which he, his officers, and men possess, the honor will be his if he succeeds, and the blame mine if he fails."

Welles noted in his diary the same day that "this is taking Meade beyond his ability."

The letter reached the press and anti-administration newspapers raised a storm. Lincoln was prodding generals to useless slaughter, the editorials ran.

But Lincoln might as well have saved the wear and tear on his pen. Meade fought nothing bigger than a small-sized engagement before time for the army to go into winter quarters.

Lincoln's other command problem was in the West. Between the mountains and the Mississippi River he had four armies, all independent and all occupied with their own problems. Co-ordination, when there was any, was through Washington.

The largest army, under Maj. Gen. William S. Rosecrans, was penned in Chattanooga, Tenn., after losing the battle of Chickamauga. It had been reinforced with two corps from the Army of the Potomac and seemed safe for the time being but it was not showing many signs of fighting. Other reinforcements were on the way from the Army of the Tennessee commanded by Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. Maj. Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside had an army at Knoxville, Tenn., and Maj. Gen. N. P. Banks, one of the lower Mississippi.

Time and Lincoln's patience were running out on Rosecrans.

Stanton wanted him removed. Lincoln was deliberating the question, meanwhile writing notes to Rosecrans, urging him to hold on, to stab at the Confederates and to "board at home," meaning to live off the land.

But Rosecrans was having supply troubles. Confederate cavalry had raided his lines and on Oct. 2, he ordered the army on two-third rations. Forage for horses and mules was scarce and he ordered the country combed for unravaged cornfields. Then rations were reduced to half and not many of them existed.

Despite his immediate problems Rosecrans found time to write to Lincoln on Oct. 3:

"If we maintain the position in such strength that the enemy are obliged to abandon their position, and the elections in the great states go favorably, would it not be well to offer a general amnesty to all officers and soldiers in the rebellion? It would give us moral strength and weaken them very much."

Lincoln replied to this advice about how to run the government by saying, "I intend doing something like what you suggest whenever the cast shall appear ripe enough . . ."

There was a red hot election campaign in progress in Ohio at the time. Clement L. Vallandigham, the Peace Democrat Lincoln had banished to the South, was running in absentia for governor against John Brough, a War Democrat campaigning on a Union ticket. Rosecrans was helping Brough as much as possible by encouraging officers and men in his army to vote for him.

Vallandigham's followers promised to muster 50,000 "fully armed and equipped free men" to escort their candidate from Windsor, Ont., if he were elected. Brough said if Vallandigham was victorious civil war would break out in Ohio.

On Oct. 9, Brough won handily with a margin of 101,000 votes.

A few days later Republican Andrew Curtin was reelected governor of Pennsylvania by 41,000.

Welles reported Lincoln was much relieved by the results.

Now the side issues appeared to be all settled and Lincoln was about to act on Rosecrans.

Wanda Hendrix Claims Women's Golf Crown

By RICHARD WRIGHT
World Sports Writer

Mrs. Wanda Hendrix, a physical education teacher at Shreveport's Fair Park High School, defeated defending champion Barbara Faye White one up for the Louisiana State Women's Amateur golf championship at Bayou de l'Est Country Club Friday.

For Miss White, it was the end of a long week in which she had narrowly escaped elimination in the quarterfinals. The tournament also ended a summer on the amateur circuit which netted the defending champion a quarterfinal victory in the Broadmoor Invitational at Colorado Springs, Colo., and a semifinal berth in the Trans-Mississippi meet at Denver.

OVER NEVILLE, 13-7

Jonesboro-Hodge Gets Long Awaited Victory

JONESBORO (Special) — Jonesboro added a hard-earned third victory over Neville of Monroe in a District 2-AA battle of Tiger teams here Friday night. It was the first conference

When Jonesboro tried to pass for the PAT, it was incomplete. Neville met with heavy penalties and some key injuries to handicap the visiting Tigers. Star fullback Gary Pappas was injured twice but managed to keep playing though he was slowed. Defensive tackle Steve Huffman had to leave the game in the fourth quarter because of injury.

Neville, however, began a first quarter comeback when a quarterback Ronnie Clark returned a punt 70-yards to the Jonesboro - Hodge Eight - yard line in the last play of the period.

Don Johnson plunged for the touchdown in the second quarter after three plays. Ronnie Clark's boot put Neville ahead, 7-6. Jonesboro's long haul started in the third quarter with possession starting on its own 28. The host Tigers inched through 22 plays, including two first downs in their own territory, to reach the one yard line. Halfback Marion Cavette fell over the last yard for the deciding touchdown. Marus kicked the PAT.

The visitors attempted a last quarter comeback with a fumble recovery on the Jonesboro 43. But what started as a Neville threat ended with Neville losing yardage in face of a powerful Jonesboro defense.

Outstanding for Neville on defense were Robert McSherry and Huffman. All-state end Johnny Garlington, who also injured his leg, was the holding force on the Jonesboro defense. He got backing from guards Jim Gregory and Aubrey Futrell and Tackle Robert Harper.

Score by quarters:
Neville 0 7 0 0 — 7
Jonesboro 6 0 7 0 — 13

CAVANAUGH BIG GUN

Pineville Scores Late To Edge Rebels, 13-7

PINEVILLE (Special) — Halfback Lynn Cavanaugh crashed over from one yard out with 1:57 left to go in the game to give Pineville High its first victory of the season, 13-7 over West Monroe here Friday night.

Cavanaugh's touchdown, his second of the night, was on a crucial fourth down play and capped a 74-yard drive which took 17 plays for the Rebels.

Cavanaugh and Halfback Richard Bardwell were the big guns all night for Pineville which is now 1-4 for the season after four straight losses. Cavanaugh romped for 78-yards on eight carries

BEAT TULANE, 10-0

Miami Has Hard Time With Wave

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pass wizard George Mira, plagued by butter fingered receivers and still seeking to recapture his 1962 form, had to fall back on a field goal and a fumble to spark Miami to a 10-0 football victory over hapless Tulane Friday night.

It was the 14th straight loss for the Green Wave, which moved to the Hurricane one-yard line as the game ended on a sparkling 44-yard pass from quarterback Al Burgieres to end Ron Krajewski. Tulane has yet to score this season.

addition, a 40-yard strike to flankerback Nick Spinelli was nullified by a holding penalty.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Statistics of the Miami-Tulane football game:
First downs 12 12
Passing yardage 230 125
Rushing yardage 66 82
Passes 17 16
Passes intercepted by 1 1
Punts 8-33.7 7-39.7
Fumbles lost 0 1
Yards penalized 55 25

Miami, which topped Purdue 3-0 last week after being upset by Florida State 24-0, had to settle for three points in the second quarter when end Ed Weisacosky juggled a 19-yard touchdown pass in the end zone. End Don Cifra split the uprights from the 33. Miami-EG Cifra 33 while Bradwell went 96-yards on 19 attempts.

And after the winning Pineville score, Cavanaugh intercepted West Monroe quarterback James Colvin's pass on a second down play to insure the Rebel victory.

Pineville scored first punting 90-yards on nine plays in the opening quarter. Cavanaugh got the score on a 17-yard jaunt and Bardwell kicked the extra point. West Monroe came back to tie the score in the second period. Colvin passed to end Roy Crain on a 30-yard play for the score. Ray Alexander kicked the extra point, leaving it 7-7 at the half.

The drive covered 70-yards and took 11 plays. Raymond Frazier paced West Monroe's efforts in the evenly matched game. He carried for 44-yards on eight plays. Alexander gained 34-yards on 10 runs and Chuck Crawford had 28 in nine.

West Monroe threatened repeatedly in the game, but was thwarted except for the one score. Penalties hurt the visitors' cause repeatedly. Nine penalties against West Monroe set them back 82-yards. Pineville was penalized twice for 20-yards. West Monroe is now 2-2 for the season.

Public Links title twice.

The young blonde, who won the Southern Amateur in a playoff with her Shreveport rival last May, birdied holes 14-18 for a 3-under-par 71 first round score which left Miss White trailing four down. The defending champion, who was one over through 13, never managed to overcome her deficit.

In the afternoon, playing cooled off with only a couple of spectacular shots.

In her effort to whittle down the loss, Miss White sank an 80-foot putt on No. 9 which won her the hole but left her still two down.

Mrs. Hendrix revived some of her morning spirit when she birdied No. 12 with a 15-foot putt.

After that, they settled down to a long struggle in which Miss White gained and lost holes but never tied the score.

The 15th hole was the turning point for both players. After landing a beautiful drive in straight shot of the green, Miss White put the ball within a few feet of the cup.

Mrs. Hendrix pulled herself onto the green after a poor drive but on the putt that would have given her a 3-up edge, the ball hit the cup and spun out.

Miss White, trying to catch up to within a stroke, putted and missed the cup by a breath.

On the 16th, Miss White put her drive in the rough but Mrs. Hendrix landed in a sandtrap on her second drive. She lifted the ball to the green but missed on the putt.

In driving from the rough, Miss White overshot the green but on the next play, came within inches of the cup. After Mrs. Hendrix had bogeyed, Miss White won the hole on a conceded birdie to put her only one down.

At No. 17, both hit the green on the first drive and tied the hole when Miss White got the putt needed to keep her in the match.

At the crucial 18 which Miss White had to win to prolong her chances, long drives put Mrs. Hendrix in the rough at the base of a tree and Miss White several feet beyond the green.

A calm and steady Mrs. Hendrix, on threshold of the championship, lifted the ball gently to the green with one stroke. Both Miss White equalled her. After failed to find the cup thus halving the hole and leaving Mrs. Hendrix with her one up edge.

LaGrange Stomps

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Quarterback Greg Dupin bombarded Bolton of Alexandria with an aerial attack, completing 11 of 12 passes, to drive LaGrange to a 33-0 victory Friday night.

After two games, Jack Clayton's Demons are still looking for their first victory. They lost to Stephen F. Austin, 10-0, in an opening upset and fell before Louisiana College, 13-7, last weekend.

Northeast dropped its opener to Chattanooga, 9-0, and edged McMurry College, 8-7, on a last-minute touchdown last week.

The Demons have two veteran quarterbacks with good passing arms. Donnie Carroll has hit on nine of 21 passes and Don Beasley has connected on six of 13. Fullback Claude Patrick is the top rusher. Glenn Talbert, a 9.8 sprinter, is expected to see extensive action Saturday after being used sparingly in the first two games.

The top man in the Demon line is all-America center-linebacker Sammy Odom, a former Chicago Bandit at LSU who is a terror on defense.

Northeast will have its two fastest backs, all-GSC Ken Newton and Ronnie Myrick, ready for full-time duty in this game. Newton, troubled by a sprained ankle, carried only four times in the Tribe's two games and Myrick has been slowed by foot bruise and strained leg muscle. Morris Douglas and Alton Thomas will start at halfback with Newton and Myrick behind them on the Maroon team.

Veteran fullback Willie Ragan has carried the offensive load for the Indians this year. He leads the team in ground gaining with 130 yards and his understudy Ronnie Graham, is second with 81. Mike Cooper has moved into the starting berth at quarterback. He has completed five of 14 passes while Bookie Shilcutt has hit on five of 13.

Up front, center Tommy Beaubie, guard James Kirkendall, tackle Alden Fontenot and end Carlyle Williams have been defensive standouts for Northeast. Guard Joe McClain will play after missing the McMurry game with an injury.

Northeast will resume its home schedule next Saturday night when strong independent How College invades Brown Stadium.

Bastrop Downs Lions For 20-0 League Win

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Writer

Bastrop High's proud Rams kept their unbeaten streak alive here Friday night with a sound 20-0 victory over Ouachita.

The win for Coach Joe Murry's club was the fourth out of five starts after tying Bossier 7-7 last week. Ouachita is winless after five starts as again Frank Mobley's Lions put on a gallant show in the first half before giving way to the powerful Rams in the second frame.

The Lions have played every opponent to the hilt for at least a half but the manpower and depth shortage comes falling through in the final two periods. Bastrop grabbed a 7-0 lead with 5:00 left in the first quarter when barreling fullback Johnny Bailey carried over from eight yards out and end Tom Holmer successfully booted the point after.

Ouachita made the first of two tremendous goal line stands early in the second quarter and neither team threaten the rest of the half, leaving the Rams with a 7-0 intermission lead.

With 6:20 to go in the third period, quarterback Rickey Head rolled out for a six yard touchdown. Holmer again converted and Bastrop's faithful fans, who came in mass to watch their favorite sons, were able to relax and enjoy the game a little more.

Rickey Reynolds, one of Bastrop's fine halfbacks, got the final tally with 8:45 remaining in the game when he bolted over left guard from nine yards out. Holmer's kick was wide and Bastrop led 20-0.

The Rams' crushing offense grounded out 340 yards rushing and picked up 19 first downs to completely dominate the contest. Ouachita had 103 yards on the ground, all but nine of which came in the first half and moved for nine first downs.

In the first half, Ouachita moved to the Bastrop 38 once, after the opening kickoff, and to the 39 early in the second quarter for its only penetrations.

The Lions most outstanding efforts during the contest were while on defense when they halted two Ram drives on the one yardline.

The first stand reached a climax on the initial play of the second period after Bastrop had driven 40 yards, mostly on a beautiful 29 yard scamper by swivel-hipped Rickey Grimmitt. The Lions most outstanding efforts during the contest were while on defense when they halted two Ram drives on the one yardline.

The other "big stop" halted a 62 yard Bastrop march one yard short. Again Grimmitt, who played both halfback and quarterback, flashed his way for big gains, one for 16 yards and another for 19, as Bastrop rolled. But when Bastrop reached the one with a first and goal situation, Ouachita reached back for that something extra and met the Rams head on four times without yielding.

SCORING DRIVES
The Rams' first scoring drive was begun at their own 43. Reynolds hit off right tackle, found room and scooted 15 yards before being hauled down on the Lions' 42. After Reynolds and Bailey alternated on tries to reach the 22, Head rolled to the right and picked up 12 yards to the 10 yardline. Two plays later Bailey scored.

The third period tally came on a drive Bastrop began on its own 38 after taking the opening second half kickoff.

The running of Bailey, who carried 17 times for 70 yards during the tilt, and a 16-yard pass from Head to end Morris Funderburg highlighted the drive which climaxed when Head scored from six yards out.

Grimmitt, the Rams' leading ball carrier with 87 yards on just seven tries, gained big yardage in the last Bastrop TD drive. He went 13 once after getting a bone-jarring block from tackle Benton Barnett, one of many Ram linemen who were outstanding all night. Reynolds ended this eight play drive when he pounded across from the nine.

Reynolds with 75 yards on 12 carries and Head with 69 yards on 10 trips rounded out the big yardage men for the talented Rams.

Kenneth Slusher, who quarterbacked the Lions all the way, was Ouachita's leading rusher with 54 yards on nine tries.

His best run was a 40-yard jaunt from the Lions' three to their 43 after Ouachita had held Bastrop the first time.

Such men as defensive captain Mickey Michaud, Bailey, corner backer Reynolds, Arthur Deefe, Glenn Murphy and Gerald Monney were tremendous on defense all night for Bastrop.

Scoring Summary:
Bastrop: Johnny Bailey 8 yard run. Tom Holmer kicked PAT.
Bastrop: Rickey Head 6 yard run. Holmer kicked PAT.
Bastrop: Rickey Reynolds 9 yard run. Holmer kicked failed.

Louisiana Tech Faces Wildcats

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's footballers, stymied on both the ground and in the air last week, will try to crank up both methods of attack against Louisiana College here Saturday night in the home opener.

Louisiana College has a proven attack, having lost to Troy State 15-14 and then having rapped Northwestern State 13-7. Tech got only 10 yards net on the ground and 70 in the air in a 27-6 losing effort against McNeese State.

The Techsters started tapering off Thursday after a rough week of contact drills. There will likely be no shakeup in the Bulldog lineup for the Louisiana College tilt. Coach Joe Aillet and his staff went back to fundamentals this week to try to ready their charges for the Wildcats. Emphasis has been on blocking and tackling since too few of both were prevalent in the Cowboy contest.

Richard Enis has continued to be a standout in the line. He follows a long line of outstanding guards in the Canine camp and seems to come from the same mold. His play was outstanding against McNeese.

Kenny Tidwell has been an exceptional defensive specialist. Quarterback Billy Laird plays only offense and Tidwell is his replacement on defense.

Tech will be in good physical condition Saturday night, with the only injuries confined to bruises suffered in practice this week.

Louisiana College comes to town with one of the better fullbacks in David Corley and capable quarterbacks in Phil Troutman and Bob Boisvert.

Dartmouth baseball coach Tony Lupien captained the baseball and basketball teams at Harvard.

Wanda Hendrix Claims Women's Golf Crown

By RICHARD WRIGHT
World Sports Writer

Mrs. Wanda Hendrix, a physical education teacher at Shreveport's Fair Park High School, defeated defending champion Barbara Faye White one up for the Louisiana

State Women's Amateur golf championship at Bayou DeSiard Country Club Friday.

For Miss White, it was the end of a long week in which she had narrowly escaped elimination in the quarterfinals. The tournament also ended a summer on the amateur circuit which netted the defending champion a quarterfinal victory in the Broadmoor Invitational at Colorado Springs, Colo., and a semifinal berth in the Trans-Mississippi meet at Denver.

Mrs. Hendrix was playing in her first Louisiana state tournament but had claimed the Texas

Public Links title twice.

The young blonde, who won the Southern Amateur in a playoff with her Shreveport rival last May, birdied holes 14-18 for a 3-under-par 71 first round score which left Miss White trailing four down. The defending champion, who was one over through 13, never managed to overcome her deficit.

In the afternoon, playing cooled off with only a couple of spectacular shots.

In her effort to whittle down the loss, Miss White sank an 80-foot putt on No. 9 which won her the hole but left her still two down.

Mrs. Hendrix revived some of her morning spirit when she birdied No. 12 with a 15-foot putt.

After that, they settled down to a long struggle in which Miss White gained and lost holes but never tied the score.

The 15th hole was the turning point for both players. After landing a beautiful drive in straight shot of the green, Miss White put the ball within a few feet of the cup.

Mrs. Hendrix pulled herself onto the green after a poor drive but on the putt that would have given her a 3-up edge, the ball hit the cup and spun out.

Miss White, trying to catch up to within a stroke, putted and missed the cup by a breath.

On the 16th, Miss White put her drive in the rough but Mrs. Hendrix landed in a sandtrap on her second drive. She lifted the ball to the green but missed on the putt.

In driving from the rough, Miss White overshot the green but on the next play, came within inches of the cup. After Mrs. Hendrix had bogeyed, Miss White won the hole on a conceded birdie to put her only one down.

At No. 17, both hit the green on the first drive and tied the hole when Miss White got the putt needed to keep her in the match.

At the crucial 18 in which Miss White had to win to prolong her chances, long drives put Mrs. Hendrix in the rough at the base of a tree and Miss White several feet beyond the green.

A calm and steady Mrs. Hendrix, on threshold of the championship, lifted the ball gently to the green with one stroke. After Miss White equalled her, both failed to find the cup thus halving the hole and leaving Mrs. Hendrix with her one up edge.

When Jonesboro tried to pass for the PAT, it was incomplete. Neville met with heavy penalties and some key injuries to handicap the visiting Tigers. Star fullback Gary Pappas was injured twice but managed to keep playing though he was slowed. Defensive tackle Sheve Huffman had to leave the game in the fourth quarter because of injury.

Neville, however, began a first quarter comeback when a quarterback Ronnie Clark returned a punt 70-yards to the Jonesboro - Hodge Eight - yard line in the last play of the period.

Don Johnson plunged for the touchdown in the second quarter after three plays. Ronnie Clark's boot put Neville ahead, 7-6.

Jonesboro's long haul started in the third quarter with possession starting on its own 28. The host-tigers inched through 22 plays, including two first downs in their own territory, to reach the one yard line. Halfback Marion Cavette fell over the last yard for the deciding touchdown. Marcus kicked the PAT.

The visitors attempted a last quarter comeback with a fumble recovery on the Jonesboro 43. But what started as a Neville threat ended with Neville losing yardage in face of a powerful Jonesboro defense.

Outstanding for Neville on defense were Robert McSherry and Huffman.

All-state end Johnny Garlington, who also injured his leg, was the holding force on the Jonesboro defense. He got backing from guards Jim Gregory and Aubrey Futrell and Tackle Robert Harper.

Score by quarters:

Neville 0 7 0 0 - 7

Jonesboro 6 0 7 0 - 13

Neville, however, began a first quarter comeback when a quarterback Ronnie Clark returned a punt 70-yards to the Jonesboro - Hodge Eight - yard line in the last play of the period.

Don Johnson plunged for the touchdown in the second quarter after three plays. Ronnie Clark's boot put Neville ahead, 7-6.

Jonesboro's long haul started in the third quarter with possession starting on its own 28. The host-tigers inched through 22 plays, including two first downs in their own territory, to reach the one yard line. Halfback Marion Cavette fell over the last yard for the deciding touchdown. Marcus kicked the PAT.

The visitors attempted a last quarter comeback with a fumble recovery on the Jonesboro 43. But what started as a Neville threat ended with Neville losing yardage in face of a powerful Jonesboro defense.

Outstanding for Neville on defense were Robert McSherry and Huffman.

All-state end Johnny Garlington, who also injured his leg, was the holding force on the Jonesboro defense. He got backing from guards Jim Gregory and Aubrey Futrell and Tackle Robert Harper.

Pineville Scores Late To Edge Rebels, 13-7

PINEVILLE (Special) — Halfback Lynn Cavanaugh crashed over from one yard out with 1:57 left to go in the game to give Pineville High its first victory of the season, 13-7 over West Monroe here Friday night.

Cavanaugh's touchdown, his second of the night, was on a crucial fourth down play and capped a 74-yard drive which took over 17 plays for the Rebels.

Cavanaugh and halfback Richard Bardwell were the big guns all night for Pineville which is now 1-4 for the season after four straight losses. Cavanaugh romped for 78-yards on eight carries while Bradwell went 96-yards on 19 attempts.

And after the winning Pineville score, Cavanaugh intercepted West Monroe quarterback James Colvin's pass on a second down play to insure the Rebel victory.

Pineville scored first punching 90-yards on nine plays in the opening quarter. Cavanaugh got the score on a 17-yard jaunt and Bardwell kicked the extra point.

The drive covered 70-yards and took 11 plays.

Raymond Frazier paced West Monroe's efforts in the evenly matched game. He carried for 44-yards on eight plays. Alexander gained 34-yards on 10 runs and Chuck Crawford had 28 in nine.

West Monroe threatened repeatedly in the game, but was thwarted except for the one score. Penalties hurt the visitors' cause repeatedly. Nine penalties against West Monroe set them back 82-yards. Pineville was penalized twice for 20-yards.

West Monroe is now 2-2 for the season.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pass wizard George Mira, plagued by butter fingered receivers and still seeking to recapture his 1962 form, had to fall back on a field goal and a fumble to spark Miami to a 10-0 football victory over hapless Tulane Friday night.

It was the 14th straight loss for the Green Wave, which moved to the Hurricane one-yard line as the game ended on a sparkling 44-yard pass from quarterback Al Burgulieres to end Ron Krajewski.

Tulane has yet to score this season.

Mira hit on only seven of 19 passes for 66 yards and saw the Greenies intercept two of his aerials for Tulane's first interceptions this year.

But Mira, an All-America as a junior last year, saw three potential touchdown passes dropped. In addition, a 40-yard strike to flank-erback Nick Spinelli was nullified by a holding penalty.

Northeast Tribe To Meet Demons

The 12th edition of the Northwestern-Northeast State football series — a rivalry that seems to intensify with each game — unfolds in Natchitoches tonight beginning at 8.

The two teams, who open their Gulf States Conference campaigns in this evening's game, first met in 1952 with Northeast taking a 20-13 victory. Since then, the Indians have managed one other victory, a 7-6 decision in 1960, and trail in the series, nine to two.

In 1958, the rivalry was heated up when Dr. George T. Walker became Northeast president and Jack Rowan athletic director and head football coach. Both had Northwestern backgrounds. Walker coming to Monroe after serving as dean of administration at Northwestern and Rowan as assistant coach.

Last year's contest was one of the most thrilling in the series with Northwestern pulling out an 18-17 triumph in the fading moments after trailing most of the game.

Rowan rated Northwestern's Demons one of the Tribe's toughest foes.

"Northwestern is one of the league's best teams, no matter what its record is," Rowan says. "The Demons usually start slow. Last year, they had a 1-1 record when we played them and went on to win the GSC title. They have the best depth of any league team and some of the conference's top players."

After two games, Jack Clayton's Demons are still looking for their first victory. They lost to Stephen F. Austin, 10-0, in an opening upset and fell before Louisiana College, 13-7, last weekend.

Northeast dropped its opener to Chattanooga, 9-0, and edged McMurry College, 8-7, on a last-minute touchdown last week.

The Demons have two veteran quarterbacks with good passing arms. Donnie Carroll has hit on nine of 21 passes and Don Beasley has connected on six of 13. Fullback Claude Patrick is the top rusher. Glenn Talbert, a 9.8 sprinter, is expected to see extensive action Saturday after being used sparingly in the first two games.

The top man in the Demon line is all-America center-linebacker Sammy Odom, a former Chinese Bandit at LSU who is a terror on defense.

Nie Graham, is second with 81. Mike Cooper has moved into the starting berth at quarterback. He has completed five of 14 passes while Bookie Shillcut has hit on five of 13.

Up front, center Tommy Beaubie, guard James Kirkendall, tackle Alden Fontenot and end Carlisle Williams have been defensive standouts for Northeast. Guard Joe McClain will play after missing the McMurry game with an injury.

Northeast will resume its home schedule next Saturday night when strong independent How College invades Brown Stadium.

Louisiana Tech Faces Wildcats

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's footballers, stymied on both the ground and in the air last week, will try to crank up both methods of attack against Louisiana College here Saturday night in the home opener.

Louisiana College has a proven attack, having lost to Troy State 15-14 and then having rapped Northwestern State 13-7. Tech got only 10 yards net on the ground and 70 in the air in a 27-6 losing effort against McNeese State.

The Techsters started tapering off Thursday after a rough week of contact drills. There will likely be no shakeup in the Bulldog line-up for the Louisiana College tilt.

Coach Joe Aillet and his staff went back to fundamentals this week to try to ready their charges for the Wildcats. Emphasis has been on blocking and tackling since too few of both were prevalent in the Cowboy contest.

Richard Enis has continued to be a standout in the line. He follows a long line of outstanding guards in the Canine camp and seems to come from the same mold. His play was outstanding against McNeese.

Kenny Tidwell has been an exceptional defensive specialist. Quarterback Billy Laird plays only offense and Tidwell is his replacement on defense.

Tech will be in good physical condition Saturday night, with the only injuries confined to bruises suffered in practice this week.

Louisiana College comes to town with one of the better fullbacks in David Corley and capable quarterbacks in Phil Troutman and Bob Boisvert.

Dartmouth baseball coach Tony Lupien captained the baseball and basketball teams at Harvard.

Trojans Rally For Slim Win Over Spartans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stunned by a 38-yard field goal and an 88-yard scoring pass play by halfback Sherman Lewis, Southern California came from behind with a spectacular counter attack of its own for two touchdowns and a 13-10 football victory over Michigan State Friday night.

Sophomore halfback Mike Garrett on the first play of the fourth quarter, ripped through the middle of the Spartan line for 52 yards and within six more minutes, quarterback Pete Beathard connected with a 16-yard touchdown pass in the end zone to towering end Hal Bedsole.

A crowd of 59,137 in Memorial Coliseum, which had just about given up any hope of a Trojan victory, was electrified by the abrupt turn of events.

Southern Cal, defending national champion, seemed destined to lose its second straight game after the Oklahoma defeat last week.

Garrett's spectacular run on a quick opener obviously fired up the Trojans. When Willie Brown returned a punt by the Spartans' soccer-style kicking specialist, Lou Bobich, the Trojans promptly struck again.

Beathard flipped a short pass to Brown, who raced 51 yards to the MSU 18. Garrett gained two but the Spartans held.

With fourth down and eight to go, the Spartans put a big rush on Beathard and chased him toward the sideline. A noted scrapper, Beathard finally located his 6-foot-5 receiver in the corner of the end zone and Bedsole made a jumping catch—his first after dropping several previous throws.

Michigan State completely dominated the first half but scored only a field goal from 38 yards by Bobich.

By JACK HAND
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Yankee slugger Roger Maris is a doubtful starter in today's third World Series game as the Los Angeles Dodgers came home with a 2-0 edge over the American League champions.

With Don Drysdale, 19-17, ready to take on New York's Jim Bouton, 21-7 in a battle of right-handers in the third game, the Dodgers had become 3-1 favorites to take it all. If Big D can win his start, Sandy Koufax, who set a Series record with 15 strikeouts in the opener, is primed to strike the finishing blow Sunday against Whitey Ford.

Twice before the Yanks have trailed 2-0 and come back to win, against Brooklyn in 1956 and Milwaukee in 1958. However, each time they had lost the first two on the road, not at Yankee Stadium.

The proud Yanks, 7-5 pre-Series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The probable lineup for the third game of the World Series Saturday:

NEW YORK

Los Angeles

Umpires: Napp, plate; Crawford, first base; Peabrella, second base; Gorman, third base; Rice, left foul line; Venzon,

favorites, now faced the distinct possibility that they might be humiliated in four straight. The only Yankee Series club that failed to win a game was the 1922 team, but even they managed to get one tie while bowing to John McGraw's New York Giants.

"Welcome Home, Champs," read one banner held aloft in the tumultuous crowd of 2,000 that greeted the Dodgers at the airport Thursday night. "Where's all that Yankee power now?" another asked.

Fans had remained in line all night outside Dodger Stadium at Chavez Ravine in hopes of grabbing some of the 4,100 tickets that go on sale before each game. A jam-packed mob of 56,000, with trumpets blaring "charge," was assured for the Dodgers' first home game.

Nobody ever has won a Series after losing the first two at home but the Yanks were grimly confident they would pull it out yet.

"We're not throwing in the towel," said Manager Ralph Houk in the Yankee clubhouse after Thursday's 4-1 defeat to Johnny Podres. He repeated it again Friday as his Yanks worked out in Walter O'Malley's many-splendored stadium.

Bouton, Houk's third game pitcher, is a sturdy 24-year-old athlete with a big overhanded curve, like Camilo Pascual's. "Bulldog Jim" is what his mates call him, for he is a determined young man who won 21 after being promoted from the bullpen to a starting role May 12. He completed 12 of 30 starts and won six shutouts.

Drysdale, the Dodgers' 6-foot-6 inch righty, wound up with 19 victories, having been troubled by shingles in the final month. He pitched 17 complete games in 42 starts and threw three shutouts.

Carroll Bulldogs Stomp Dragons In 31-6 Attack

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe trampled the Jones High Dragons of North Little Rock, Ark., 31-6, at Carroll stadium Friday night.

The five touchdown barrage included 55-yard and 22-yard runs by Joe Baker for two of the tallies. Joe Everett got the scoring going with a three yard plunge in the first quarter and a third quarter tally with a 20-yard scamper.

James Harris passed to Frank Hill three yards for a close-out touchdown and the Bulldogs succeeded on the extra point try for the only PAT of the night.

The bedraggled Dragons scored in the third period when Linscomb scrambled from nine yards out.

Seventh-Ranked Tech Invades 'Tiger Town'

BATON ROUGE (Special) — A dry field and a team that appears "wet behind the ears" is the inviting scenery ahead of Georgia Tech's 7th-ranked Yellow Jackets Saturday night when they come to Tiger Stadium to meet a young Louisiana State eleven.

A capacity crowd of 67,500 is expected for the 8 p.m. kickoff for this Southeastern Conference game, a sellout since last week.

Heisman Award candidate Billy Lothridge leads a veteran Tech team into the game with a perfect record. The Yellow Jackets are unbeaten and unscored on after winning over Florida (9-0) and Clemson (27-0) — both on rain-soaked turf.

"Mud doesn't seem to slow Tech down," says LSU coach Charlie McClendon. "I know they're going to be tough on a dry field. Tech has four of the best individual players in college football in Lothridge, ends Billy Martin and Ted Davis and halfback Joe Auer."

McClendon said he hoped the Tigers could put together "four quarters of good football" for the Tech game and improve the team's consistency over the past two outings. In a 14-6 opening

Rodgers In Tie For First With Balding At 138

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Phil Rodgers, the wise-cracking ex-Marine from LaJolla, Calif., and lanky Al Balding, Canada's magnificent scambler, took the lead for the $26,000 first prize in the Whitmarsh Open Golf Tournament Friday with scores of six-under-par 138.

Breaking under the heavy pressure of the dramatic finish, both three-putted the final green—Rodgers first and then Balding—when a par would have given either first place.

The stocky, blond-haired Rodgers, playing out of Perdido Bay, Fla., fired a 34-36-70 over the 6-807-yard, par 36-36-72 Whitmarsh Valley course and the rangy 6-foot-2 Balding came in 15 minutes later with 33-35-68.

They overtook the first round leader, bespectacled Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who shot a par 72 after a first round 67 for a second place tie at 139 with Tommy Jacobs.

Jacobs, playing in the same threesome with Rodgers and Bill Casper, knocked in an eagle at the 17th for a five-under par 67, which made him a redhot candidate for golf's biggest tournament prize of the year.

Of the favored golfing capitalists, Arnold Palmer, the year's leading money winner with $101,555, made the strongest charge.

Fraser's sneak in the final period capped the longest sustained march for the Homer eleven, a 50-yarder.

George Robinson kicked three of the four point afters for the winners.

East Jeff needed but seven plays to tie the score with Hudson going over from the seven late in the second quarter. Barry Bordon's conversion kick gave the Warriors a 7-6 intermission lead.

Trojans Rally For Slim Win Over Spartans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stunned by a 33-yard field goal and an 88-yard scoring pass play by halfback Sherman Lewis, Southern California came from behind to a spectacular counter attack of its own for two touchdowns and a 13-10 football victory over Michigan State Friday night.

Sophomore halfback Mike Garrett on the first play of the fourth quarter, ripped through the middle of the Spartan line for 52 yards and within six more minutes, quarterback Pete Beathard connected with a 16-yard touch-stanza and Brent Roussel kicked the extra point to give SLC a 7-0 lead.

Roussel booted two field goals in the second quarter—the first a 28-yarder and the second a 45-yard kick.

On the kickoff after Roussel's second field goal, East Texas' Glenn Robinson raced 93 yards for a touchdown.

down pass in the end zone to towering end Hal Bedsole.

A crowd of 59,137 in Memorial Coliseum, which had just about given up any hope of a Trojan victory, was electrified by the abrupt turn of events.

Southern Cal, defending national champion, seemed destined to lose its second straight game after the Oklahoma defeat last week.

Garrett's spectacular run on a quick opener obviously fired up the Trojans. When Willie Brown returned a punt by the Spartans' soccer-style kicking specialist, Lou Bobich, the Trojans promptly struck again.

Beathard flipped a short pass to Brown, who raced 51 yards to the MSU 18. Garrett gained two but the Spartans held.

With fourth down and eight to go, the Spartans put a big rush on Beathard and chased him toward the sideline. A noted scraper, Beathard finally located his 6-foot-5 receiver in the corner of the end zone and Bedsole made a jumping catch—his first after dropping several previous throws.

Michigan State completely dominated the first half but scored only a field goal from 38 yards by Bobich.

Ruston, 20-6

RUSTON (Special) — The Ruston Bearcats, paced by veteran quarterback Melvin Ray Shows rolled to an easy 20-6 triumph over Winnfield here Saturday.

Shows hit on passes of 41, and 38 yards for Bearcat tallies, and directed a 60 yard sustained drive for the final counter.

The Bearcats jumped off to a quick 7-0 lead in the first quarter as Shows hit end Jack Trammell for the 41 yarder. Billy Adney, who kicked two of three PAT's, added the extra point.

Winnfield came back to pull within a point as they rolled 40 yards to the tally with quarterback Bobby Wyatt capping the drive on a two yard plunge. The kick failed.

The Bearcats came back after a scoreless third period to pick up the final counter with a 60 yard sustained drive ending as Eddie Taylor, Ruston's bruising fallback, plunged the final two yards.

Ruston, although behind in first downs, 11-9, ruled up 232 yards in total offense to only 120 for the Tigers and that was the difference.

The Ruston front wall played good both ways, with no outstanding players. Tackle Tom Trawick and guard Bob Taylor were outstanding in the Winnfield effort.

Ruston, now 1-0 in district, takes on Neville in a hosting roll next week, in the game that could decide the district 2-AA loop title.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Yankee slugger Roger Maris is a doubtful starter in today's third World Series game as the Los Angeles Dodgers came home with a 2-0 edge over the American League champions.

With Don Drysdale, 19-17, ready to take on New York's Jim Bouton, 21-7 in a battle of right-handers in the third game, the Dodgers had become 3-1 favorites to take it all. If Big D can win his start, Sandy Koufax, who set a Series record with 15 strikeouts in the opener, is primed to strike the finishing blow Sunday against Whitey Ford.

Twice before the Yanks have trailed 2-0 and come back to win, against Brooklyn in 1956 and Milwaukee in 1958. However, each time they had lost the first two on the road, not at Yankee Stadium.

favorites, now faced the distinct possibility that they might be humiliated in four straight. The only Yankee Series club that failed to win a game was the 1922 team, but even they managed to get one tie while bowing to John McGraw's New York Giants.

"Welcome Home, Champs," read one banner held aloft in the tumultuous crowd of 2,000 that greeted the Dodgers at the airport Thursday night. "Where's all that Yankee power now?" another asked.

Fans had remained in line all night outside Dodger Stadium at Chavez Ravine in hopes of grabbing one of the 4,100 tickets that go on sale before each game. A jam-packed mob of 56,000, with trumpets blaring "charge," was assured for the Dodgers' first home game.

Nobody ever has won a Series after losing the first two at home but the Yanks were grimly confident they would pull it out yet. "We're not throwing in the towel," said Manager Ralph Houk in the Yankee clubhouse after Thursday's 4-1 defeat to Johnny Podres. He repeated it again Friday as his Yanks worked out in Walter O'Malley's many - splendor stadium.

Bouton, Houk's third game pitcher, is a sturdy 24-year-old athlete with a big overhanded curve, like Camilo Pascual's. "Bulldog Jim" is what his mates call him, for he is a determined young man who won 21 after being promoted from the bullpen to a starting role May 12. He completed 12 of 30 starts and won six shutouts.

Drysdale, the Dodgers' 6-foot-6 inch righty, wound up with 19 victories, having been troubled by shingles in the final month. He pitched 17 complete games in 42 starts and threw three shutouts.

Carroll Bulldogs Stomp Dragons In 31-6 Attack

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe trampled the Jones High Dragons of North Little Rock, Ark., 31-6, at Carroll stadium Friday night.

The five touchdown barrage included 55-yard and 22-yard runs by Joe Baker for two of the tallies. Joe Everett got the scoring going with a three yard plunge in the first quarter and a third quarter tally with a 20-yard scamper.

James Harris passed to Frank Hill three yards for a close-out touchdown and the Bulldogs succeeded on the extra point try for the only PAT of the night.

The bedraggled Dragons scored in the third period when Linscomb scrambled from nine yards out.

DEAR ABBY

Let The Man Test His Bluff In Jail, Girl

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What good are laws? I'll tell you. They are good for the lawyers. The judge says a divorced man must pay so much alimony and child support. The man doesn't do it, so the woman has to go back to her lawyer and pay him to try to get her money for her. The divorced man says, "Okay, put me in jail and you'll get nothing!" Now, is that fair?

DEAR ABBY: Here is my plan. Instead of putting these men in jail full-time, who don't they sentence them to "jobs" on evenings and weekends so they won't have all that free time to run around and spend the money they agreed to pay their ex-wives? How do I start the ball rolling?

DEAR BITTER: In some circumstances the law permits a garnishee of wages, which means you get your share whether he likes it or not. If this relief fails, let the man test his bluff in jail on a charge of non-support. I'll betcha he won't repeat.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young woman. I have been told I am very attractive. I recently took a job running an elevator in what is supposed to be a high class office building. I would rather not go into detail, but I would like to know if it is really against the law to hit a man with glasses.

DEAR GOING: Yes — unless, of course, you hit with a police court warrant for tampering with an elevator jockey.

DEAR ABBY: I understand that most men have a streak of jealousy in them, but my husband is impossible. He wakes me up at five o'clock in the morning to question me because he DREAMT I was chasing around with men all over the city. Abby, I am an ordinary — looking middle-aged woman with three small children to look after, and I tell you I am not interested in any other men. I can't even go to church for fear of being accused of going somewhere else. My nerves are shot trying to stay sane for the children. I've never given my husband any reason to distrust me. He says he acts this way because he LOVES me. Is this love?

DEAR NERVOUS: Your husband's jealousy has nothing to do with "love." Suspicious based on fantasy are a symptom of mental illness.

DEAR ABBY: I don't have a problem (any more) but I have some advice for young women. When you meet a man who says he is married "in name only" but isn't keen enough to divorce his wife because she is "sickly" — watch out! I fell for that line for two years. One evening while Mr. "No Heel" and I were barbecuing in my back yard his wife paid us an unexpected visit. She was so "sickly" that she picked up this 180 - pound man and sailed him across the yard. He landed on his head and broke his collarbone. Sincerely yours, HELENE

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of News-Star.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS".

Coed's Winter Coat Big Investment

THEY ARE BLUE CHIPS with plenty of utility. Here are three kinds of casuals of which a shrewd Miss might take stock. At left is a plaid wool cape coat which reverses to a camel's hair side, shown third left. The girl in between wears a fake cat print coat and hood, which is also reversible. At far right, the tailored vinyl suede coat has a mandarin collar as an Oriental touch.

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — During high school and college girls begin to learn about big fashion investments, for the choice of a winter coat is entirely theirs, without parental influence.

It's either their own hard-earned money they're spending, or an allowance with frustrating limitations, and they have to play it close to the line.

They learn to take stock of their wardrobes, and then search for outerwear investment with the largest fashion dividends.

Often they double their money with reversibles that are sportive or dressy.

One thing they learn to avoid is common stock. Who wants to look like the girl next door? Whatever its price, a good coat ought to have chic, good lines, and fine construction. In other words it should be strictly blue chip.

Preferred stock among the wise investors this fall are coats that fake out the skins of wildcats, as well as imitation leathers and suedes with not-really snakeskin trim.

Also seeing plenty of action on the trading board are turn-coats. They have quiet, well behaved color that gets along with everything on one side, and on the other a lively plaid guaranteed to cheer up a drab day.

Among the glamor stocks are shaggy, deep-pile coats, in white, bright hues, and pastels, too.

But the very shrewd investors are not overlooking the utilities — coats that are water repellent, easily cleaned, and warm without being tiringly heavy.

Girls research carefully before they buy. Is the hood a permanent fixture? Or does it zip off? Is the color tall enough to ward off chill winds?

If it is a slim line, is it nevertheless ample enough to top bulky woollens likely to be worn beneath it without being uncomfortable?

If it is a cape-style, are the arm slots right are there extra buttons?

These days a girl finds that one big coat investment is not enough. She needs casual or sportive styles for school and daytime wear, but she requires elegant simplicity for dressy occasions, says the New York Coat and Suit Association.

Still, usually when she discusses the matter with her banker, he (Dad) is so impressed with his daughter's fashion business acumen he is not the least bearish about floating a loan for the second investment.

All in all, the market experience is invaluable training, excellent background for a girl who is working her way up to mink.

Why Grow Old

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A few months ago in my column I printed a poem called "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went." It created a real furor. I had a tremendous response from it. Letters rolled in telling me what a laugh it had given the writers. Thousands of people were making copies and sending them to friends. People all over the country were busy trying to help me find out who wrote the poem.

I want to thank all of those people who took the time and trouble to try to help me. However, I still cannot give credit. About one hundred names were sent me, in the best faith I know, but no two were alike.

One of my readers sent the poem to her father who lives in England and in return he sent her the prose I print today. The two are quite different, but I think you will enjoy this one also. I want to share it with you because almost everyone from maturity on should remember this prayer.

The following is said to be the prayer of a 17th century nun.

"Keep me from getting talkative. And particularly from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every subject and on every occasion. Release me from the craving to Straighten out everybody's affairs."

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details; give me wings to get to the point. Seal my lips when inclined to tell of my aches and pains. They are increasing with the years.

And my love of rehearsing them grows sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson That occasionally it is possible That I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet. I do not want to be a Saint. Some of them are hard to live with, but a sour old woman is one of the crowning works of the devil.

"Help me to extract all possible fun out of life. There are so many funny things around us, and I do not want to miss any of them. Make me thoughtful but not moody, helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom it seems a pity not to use it all, but Thou, my Lord, knoweth that I want a few friends left at the end."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

This New Way To Cook
Macaroni Is Fabulous

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Gals:

Let me put a little bug in your ear.

A woman wrote to us recently telling us a new way to cook macaroni and spaghetti. It seemed UNBELIEVABLE until we tried it.

This is the discovery of the year!

Here is the way we cooked it:

We took two or three quarts of water — (according to how much macaroni you are going to cook) — and brought it to a rolling boil. And, ladies, a rolling boil MEANS when the bubbles come to the surface and burst quickly. Put some salt in. Then pour in your macaroni and make a quick stir with a spoon . . . to allow the hot water to touch all of the macaroni parts.

THEN . . . Put the top back on your pan and make sure it is TIGHT. Turn off the fire, and allow the lid to remain on the pot of macaroni for 20 MINUTES. This woman's specific directions were, "Do NOT lift the lid of the pot during these 20 minutes."

Ladies, this is absolutely the most terrific discovery — considering how many pots of macaroni I have overcooked, underboiled and burned. My macaroni was absolutely perfect.

This woman suggested that immediately after the 20 minutes are up to remove the pan from the stove, rinse the macaroni in cold water, pour into a colander and use immediately. Rinsing the macaroni in cold water prevents it from overcooking.

As another suggestion: instead of making just enough for your supper tonight you can make a little bit more and put some of it in a fruit jar and fill it up with cold water and put it into your refrigerator. Tomorrow or the next day this can be used for macaroni salad, etc.

This macaroni cannot only be used for baked macaroni and cheese but mixed with Tuna, left-over chicken or canned turkey — mixed with a cream sauce or mixed with meat balls and spaghetti sauce. Many of us eat macaroni and this woman's suggestion will help us a lot.

And may the Lord bless her for telling us her secret.

Love you, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I wear black kid gloves . . . but, oh! my long pointed fingernails are hard on the tips of the fingers. I find that I can take my black ink felt market and gently touch the worn spots. Makes my gloves look like new again.

Mrs. High Elco

Dear Heloise:

I have drip - dry dacron ruffled curtains. I wash, rinse, and starch them and then fasten them to the clothesline by hanging them by their selvage.

In this way . . . the ruffles fall in place like accordion pleating. They are dry in half an hour and are so crispy and beautiful that they require no ironing at all. Truly, it's so.

Coed's Winter Coat Big Investment

THEY ARE BLUE CHIPS with plenty of utility. Here are three kinds of casuals of which a shrewd Miss might take stock. At left is a plaid wool cape coat which reverses to a camel's hair side, shown third left. The girl in between wears a fake cat print coat and hood, which is also reversible. At far right, the tailored vinyl suede coat has a mandarin collar as an Oriental touch.

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — During high school and college girls begin to learn about big fashion investments, for the choice of a winter coat is entirely theirs, without parental influence.

It's either their own hard-earned money they're spending, or an allowance with frustrating limitations, and they have to play it close to the line.

They learn to take stock of their wardrobes, and then search for outerwear investment with the largest fashion dividends.

Often they double their money with reversibles that are sportive or dressy.

One thing they learn to avoid is common stock. Who wants to look like the girl next door? Whatever its price, a good coat ought to have chic, good lines, and fine construction. In other words it should be strictly blue chip.

Preferred stock among the wise investors this fall are coats that fake out the skins of wildcats, as well as imitation leathers and suedes with not-really snakeskin trim.

Also seeing plenty of action on the trading board are turn-coats. They have quiet, well behaved color that gets along with everything on one side, and on the other a lively plaid guaranteed to cheer up a drab day.

Among the glamor stocks are shaggy, deep-pile coats, in white, bright hues, and pastels, too.

But the very shrewd investors are not overlooking the utilities — coats that are water repellent, easily cleaned, and warm without being tiringly heavy.

Girls research carefully before they buy. Is the hood a permanent fixture? Or does it zip off? Is the color tall enough to ward off chill winds?

If it is a slim line, is it nevertheless ample enough to top bulky wools likely to be worn beneath it without being uncomfortable? If it is a cape-style, are the arm slots right are there extra buttons?

These days a girl finds that one big coat investment is not enough. She needs casual or sportive styles for school and daytime wear, but she requires elegant simplicity for dressy occasions, says the New York Coat and Suit Association.

Still, usually when she discusses the matter with her banker, he (Dad) is so impressed with his daughter's fashion business acumen he is not the least bearish about floating a loan for the second investment.

All in all, the market experience is invaluable training, excellent background for a girl who is working her way up to mink.

Quints Pick Up Substantial Gain, Weigh-In Shows

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Nurses have held a weigh-in for the Fischer quintuplets and all the babies showed substantial gains.

James Andrew, the only boy, continued the heaviest Thursday night. He weighed 4 pounds, 13 ounces, a 4-ounce gain from last Sunday.

Mary Margaret tipped the scales at 4 pounds, 2 ounces, up from 3 pounds, 13 ounces; Mary Catherine, 3 pounds, 13 1/2 ounces, a gain of 4 1/2 ounces, and Mary Magdalene, 3 pounds, 12 ounces, or 4 ounces heavier.

Mary Ann, the first of the quintuplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer on Sept. 14, remains the smallest, but she, too, showed good progress, climbing to 3 pounds, 4 ounces. On her first time on the scales last week she weighed only 2 pounds, 8 ounces.

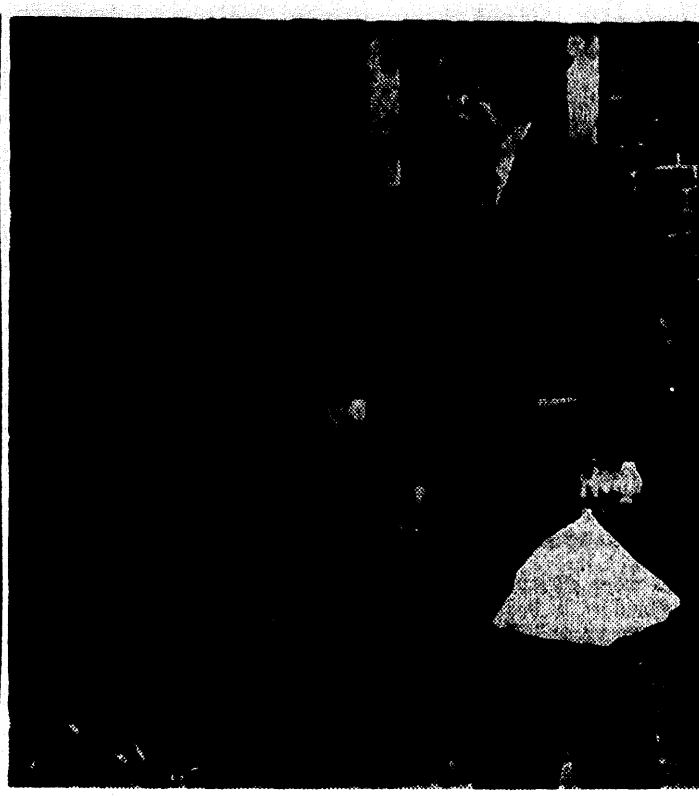

Mary Ann, however, is still taking nourishment by tube. The others are being bottle fed. All are confined to isolettes in St. Luke's Hospital, where they were born prematurely, and attendants said they are still doing fine.

Mississippi GOP In 'High Cotton' During Race

LELAND, Miss. (AP) — Republicans are in high cotton in the Mississippi delta — literally.

About 25 pretty GOP girls, using borrowed tractors and trailers, are touring Washington County asking donations of loose cotton to help finance the Republican gubernatorial campaign. Their efforts Wednesday amounted to seven bales and Thursday the total was five bales.

The shorts-clad misses ride the trailer into the fields and the farmers, with a bumper crop in the fields, have a hard time saying no.

NEW ORLEANS CHIEF of Detectives Lawrence Casanova holds pillow slip containing over $40,000 recovered in French Quarter apartment following robbery of a downtown New Orleans bank Friday morning. Jeannie Thompson, covering her head with sweater, who lived in apartment, was held for police questioning. Chips From The Stump

Named By Kennon

Monroe planter Fred Huenefeld Jr. was named by former Governor Robert F. Kennon Friday as state coordinator of "Citizens for Kennon" in a move described by Kennon as "one of the most significant events thus far in the gubernatorial campaign."

Kennon's announcement was made through his campaign manager Frank Voelker Jr.

"These volunteer groups are springing up so fast around the state," Kennon said, "we may have to set up additional office space to handle their requests for material and information."

Voelker said "Citizens for Kennon" are "usually neighborhood groups on a ward and precinct level, sometimes working as part of the regular Kennon campaign organization, sometimes not."

"This is an effort," Voelker explained, "to throw the full weight of these volunteers into the campaign effort. We expect their numbers to continue to grow."

he added, "and we expect to provide them with as much ammunition as they may need."

Voelker said, "The chief characteristic of Kennon volunteers is that they demand facts, they demand answers and they want to tell these things to others — clear and straight. 'After all,' he continued, "when an ordinary citizen involves himself in politics, he has to have some pretty good motives... this appointment is our first grateful move toward getting such a worker fully on the campaign team."

Louis Michot

THIBODAUX (Special) — The Michot for Governor movement launched its formal campaign in this area Friday night with a Shrimp Boil honoring Representative Louis J. Michot, Jr., and his running mate, Eddie Price.

Speaking to the gathering, Michot said, "I have just returned from the northern and western parts of the state, and there can be no doubt now our independent movement is coming on fast. We have stirred the people up with a hard-hitting campaign on issues alone and our message is getting through."

Continuing Michot said, "The people sincerely want good government this time, but the big question is who can they trust to give it to them. We have laid the issues before them. We've told the people we stand for reform in the governor's office, support of a Code of Ethics, economy, centralizing purchasing and accounting, establishment of sound business-like practices, and our pledges are being believed. I feel we stand on the verge of seeing the political revolution we hoped for, taking place."

"Today, the independent voter reigns supreme. He outnumbers all the monied interests and all the followers of old political machines. He can elect the men he wants — the men who will best serve Louisiana unselfishly, honestly, and proudly. We must convince him Louis Michot and Eddie Price are dedicated to doing that. Though the time is drawing close, political polls still show an undecided percentage of voters large enough to elect any ticket in the race. Let's show these independents Michot and Price speak the truth and are the men to believe."

Factfinders End Stay In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Presidential racial factfinders Kenneth L. Royall and Earl Blaik wound up the Birmingham phase of their investigation and returned to Washington on Friday.

Royall, former secretary of the Army, and Blaik, former Army football coach, said they plan to report to President Kennedy within a few days. They declined to comment on their findings.

Kennedy sent them to Birmingham on Sept. 24, nine days after a dynamite bomb wrecked a Negro church and killed four girls attending Sunday school. The President instructed them to determine how racial harmony could be restored to the big steel city which has been a center of social unrest since last April.

In their parting statement, Blaik and Royall said: "We thank the many citizens of Birmingham who have cooperated and assisted us in our mission. We also thank all the news media for supporting our decisions to make no press releases during our interviews and conferences here."

The two men said that it was possible, but not probable, that they would return to Birmingham in a few days to gather more information.

Even as the presidential emissaries were returning home, new racial trouble appeared to be brewing.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who led the wild antisegregation demonstrations last spring, said that he was sending a task force back to Birmingham.

"We will make an assessment of the temper of the situation and begin to mobilize the community in the event the Negro citizens are forced to begin demonstrations again to gain release from the reign of terror that has not yet been ended and the unfilled terms of the May 10 agreement," King said.

King's brother, the Rev. A. D. King, announced that the Negroes had already begun a campaign of selective buying to force downtown merchants to hire Negro clerks. A spot check of the downtown area Friday showed only a smattering of Negroes on the streets and hardly any in the major department stores.

Meanwhile, an Oct. 15 hearing was set for Johnny Lewis Ruffin, 20, a Negro charged with arson in the burning of a white-owned store in a Negro section.

'June Bug' Denies Firing In Home At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A young man signed a statement Friday that he was among two carloads of youths who fired shotgun and rifle volleys into a private home, seriously wounding a girl, 12.

Richard (June Bug) Banks, 21, denied he had fired any of the weapons, but police said he had implicated three companions in the Thursday night foray in which an unsuccessful effort also was made to set fire to the home where the girl lives. All are Negroes.

The victim, Pamela Ray, was shot in the upper left chest. Her condition was reported serious.

Banks told police he and his friends were members of the 31st Street Gang, one of several loosely-organized Negro neighborhood groups. Police said questioning of Banks had brought out several earlier shootings which had not been reported.

Detective Lt. Julian Hulett said the shooting at the Ray home apparently was in retaliation for an attack Wednesday aimed at the home of the unofficial leader of the 31st Street gang.

The raiders were off target, however, and their shots struck a middle-aged couple next door. This shooting was one of two in the Negro neighborhood Wednesday night in which nine persons were struck by shotgun pellets.

Police Nab Bank Bandit In Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police said they arrested a Denver gunman in a French Quarter apartment Friday an hour after he robbed a bank of $40,000.

The money was recovered.

Sgt. Hilton Stein said Kenneth Carter, 28, was slugged on the head when he pulled a gun on arresting officers. He was treated for a possible skull fracture.

Two others in the apartment also were arrested. They were identified as Jeanie Thompson, 25, and Alfonso Arrazola, 23, of Cartagena, Columbia.

The daring holdup by a lone gunman took place with dozens of customers unaware of what was going on.

The gunman walked out of the Canal Street Branch of the National Bank of Commerce, rode a taxicab to the Hotel Roosevelt, walked through the lobby and caught another taxi.

By then, the police radio was chattering out a description of the gunman and Sgt. Stein saw him get out of the cab, the sack of money under his arm, and enter the apartment building.

Stein's own radio alert brought Patrolman Justin Favalora and Detectives Ronald Kennedy and Bernard Finkelstein on the run.

Stein said when they entered the apartment, Carter thrust the muzzle of his pistol into Favalora's stomach and was slammed on the head with a gun barrel by Finkelstein.

At the bank, Vice President Emmet M. Blum said the gunman came to his desk and told him he had been losing on the horses and needed to recoup.

"He told me, 'I don't want to hurt anybody but I need money to go to the race track,'" Blum said.

Blum said the gunman had him summon Manager W. V. Graff and a cashier, Miss Theckla Sirera. All four went to the vault, where Miss Sirera filled the sack with bills.

Leaving Miss Sirera near her cage, the bandit walked with Graff and Bum to Blum's desk. From there he walked out and got in a cab.

No one else in the bank paid much attention. The gunman kept his pistol thrust into his belt most of the time.

Attractive Wife Being Held For Killing Husband

CHICAGO (AP) — An attractive brunette, Irwina Weinstein, 28, was charged Friday with murdering her businessman husband.

A former employee of the victim, charged earlier in the slaying, told investigators she planned the killing so she could "be free."

Weinstein's charred body was found last Sunday in his burned-out station wagon on a rubbish dump beside the Calumet Expressway at 137th Street south of Chicago. Examination showed his skull had been damaged by a blow.

The black-clad widow was taken to the police station after she surrendered for a second session of questioning at the office of State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward.

Authorities had sought Mrs. Weinstein, who had not been heard from since talking with police shortly after the body of her husband, Harvey Weinstein, 31, was found.

Richard Mattox, 30, has been charged with murder in connection with the slaying and is being held without bond.

Mattox said he was present when Weinstein, executive of a restaurant and bar supply firm, was slain. He also is reported to have said another man was present, but refused to identify him.

Authorities said Mattox was a former employee of the supply firm, in which Weinstein was associated with his father-in-law, Albert Slatin. They said Mattox was convicted in Indiana and Colorado burglaries and once was treated in the Illinois state penitentiary hospital for the criminally insane at Menard.

continued the heaviest Thursday night. He weighed 4 pounds, 13 ounces, a 4-ounce gain from last Sunday.

Mary Margaret tipped the scales at 4 pounds, 2 ounces, up from 3 pounds, 13 ounces; Mary Catherine, 3 pounds, 13½ ounces, a gain of 4½ ounces, and Mary Magdalene, 3 pounds, 12 ounces, or 4 ounces heavier.

Mary Ann, the first of the quintuplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer on Sept. 14, remains the smallest, but she, too, showed good progress, climbing to 3 pounds, 4 ounces. On her first time on the scales last week she weighed only 2 pounds, 8 ounces.

Mary Ann, however, is still taking nourishment by tube. The others are being bottle fed. All are confined to isolettes in St. Luke's Hospital, where they were born prematurely, and attendants said they are still doing fine.

Mississippi GOP In 'High Cotton' During Race

LELAND, Miss. (AP) — Republicans are in high cotton in the Mississippi delta — literally.

About 25 pretty GOP girls, using borrowed tractors and trailers, are touring Washington County asking donations of loose cotton to help finance the Republican gubernatorial campaign. Their efforts Wednesday amounted to seven bales and Thursday the total was five bales.

The shorts-clad misses ride the trailer into the fields and the farmers, with a bumper crop in the fields, have a hard time saying no.

Chips From The Stump

Named By Kennon

Monroe planter Fred Huenefeld Jr. was named by former Governor Robert F. Kennon Friday as state coordinator of "Citizens for Kennon" in a move described by Kennon as "one of the most significant events thus far in the gubernatorial campaign."

Kennon's announcement was made through his campaign manager Frank Voelker Jr.

"These volunteer groups are springing up so fast around the state," Kennon said, "we may have to handle up additional office space to handle their requests for material and information."

Voelker said "Citizens for Kennon" are "usually neighborhood groups on a ward and precinct level, sometimes working as part of the regular Kennon campaign organization, sometimes not."

"This is an effort," Voelker explained, "to throw the full weight of these volunteers into the campaign effort. We expect their numbers to continue to grow."

Factfinders End Stay In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Presidential racial factfinders Kenneth L. Royall and Earl Blaik wound up the Birmingham phase of their investigation and returned to Washington on Friday.

Royall, former secretary of the Army, and Blaik, former Army football coach, said they plan to report to President Kennedy within a few days. They declined to comment on their findings.

Kennedy sent them to Birmingham on Sept. 24, nine days after a dynamite bomb wrecked a Negro church and killed four girls attending Sunday school. The President instructed them to determine how racial harmony could be restored to the big steel city which has been a center of social unrest since last April.

In their parting statement, Blaik and Royall said: "We thank the many citizens of Birmingham who have cooperated and assisted us in our mission. We also thank all the news media for supporting our decisions to make no press releases during our interviews and conferences here."

The two men said that it was possible, but not probable, that they would return to Birmingham in a few days to gather more information.

Even as the presidential emissaries were returning home, new racial trouble appeared to be brewing.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who led the wild anti-segregation demonstrations last spring, said that he was sending a task force back to Birmingham.

"We will make an assessment of the temper of the situation and begin to mobilize the community in the event the Negro citizens are forced to begin demonstrations again to gain release from the reign of terror that has not yet been ended and the unfilled terms of the May 10 agreement," King said.

King's brother, the Rev. A. D. King, announced that the Negroes had already begun a campaign of selective buying to force downtown merchants to hire Negro clerks. A spot check of the downtown area Friday showed only a smattering of Negroes on the streets and hardly any in the ma-

Firing In Home At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A young man signed a statement Friday that he was among two carloads of youths who fired shotgun and rifle volleys into a private home, seriously wounding a girl, 12.

Richard (June Bug) Banks, 21, denied he had fired any of the weapons, but police said he had implicated three companions in the Thursday night foray in which an unsuccessful effort also was made to set fire to the home where the girl lives. All are Negroes.

The victim, Pamela Ray, was shot in the upper left chest. Her condition was reported serious.

Banks told police he and his friends were members of the 31st Street Gang, one of several loosely-organized Negro neighborhood groups. Police said questioning of Banks had brought out several earlier shootings which had not been reported.

Detective Lt. Julian Hulett said the shooting at the Ray home apparently was in retaliation for an attack Wednesday aimed at the home of the unofficial leader of the 31st Street gang.

The raiders were off target, however, and their shots struck a middle-aged couple next door. This shooting was one of two in the Negro neighborhood Wednesday night in which nine persons were struck by shotgun pellets.

Meanwhile, an Oct. 15 hearing was set for Johnny Lewis Ruffin, 20, a Negro charged with arson in the burning of a white-owned store in a Negro section.

he added, "and we expect to provide them with as much ammunition as they may need."

Voelker said, "The chief characteristic of Kennon volunteers is that they demand facts, they demand answers and they want to tell these things to others — clear and straight. 'After all,' he continued, "when an ordinary citizen involves himself in politics, he has to have some pretty good motives... this appointment is our first grateful move toward getting such a worker fully on the campaign team."

Louis Michot

THIBODAUX (Special) — The Michot for Governor movement launched its formal campaign in this area Friday night with a Shrimp Boil honoring Representative Louis J. Michot, Jr., and his running mate, Eddie Price.

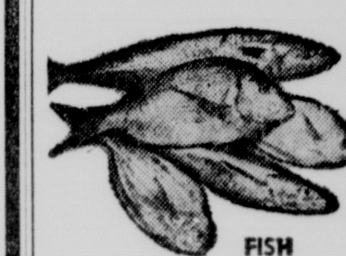

Speaking to the gathering, Michot said, "I have just returned from the northern and western parts of the state, and there can be no doubt now our independent movement is coming on fast. We have stirred the people up with a hard-hitting campaign on issues alone and our message is getting through."

Continuing Michot said, "The people sincerely want good government this time, but the big question is who can they trust to give it to them. We have laid the issues before them. We've told the people we stand for reform in the governor's office, support of a Code of Ethics, economy, centralized purchasing and accounting, establishment of sound business-like practices, and our pledges are being believed. I feel we stand on the verge of seeing the political revolution we hoped for, taking place."

"Today, the independent voter reigns supreme. He out-numbers all the monied interests and all the followers of old political machines. He can elect the men he wants — the men who will best serve Louisiana unselfishly, honestly, and proudly. We must convince him Louis Michot and Eddie Price are dedicated to doing that. Though the time is drawing close, political polls still show an undecided percentage of voters large enough to elect any ticket in the race. Let's show these independents Michot and Price speak the truth and are the men to believe."

Chicago Head Of Schools Quits Post

CHICAGO (AP) — Benjamin C. Willis, 61, resigned Friday his $48,000-a-year post as superintendent of Chicago's school system under pressure brought by demands of racial integrationists.

The big, gray-haired administrator said a court decision ordering him to implement a "discriminatory and preferential" program of school transfers left him only two other alternatives.

"I would, were I to continue, be either in contempt of court each day I refused to comply with the order or I would sacrifice the integrity of the office of superintendent of schools," he said.

Willis, possibly the highest-paid school administrator in the United States, disclosed that his letter of resignation, asking to be relieved of duties by Dec. 31, preferably by Oct. 31, was written to Clair M. Roddeveg, school board president, a week ago.

The letter protested against adding two overcrowded high schools—South Shore and Hyde Park—to a list of nine which Willis' staff had designated as open to receive gifted students asking transfers from other high schools.

He said he agreed the following day to withhold his resignation pending reconsideration of the list by the regular board session Oct. 9.

The letter cited a conclusion of an administration study made 30 years ago that the school board should not attempt execution of policies, but back the superintendent as the board's chief executive officer in carrying them out.

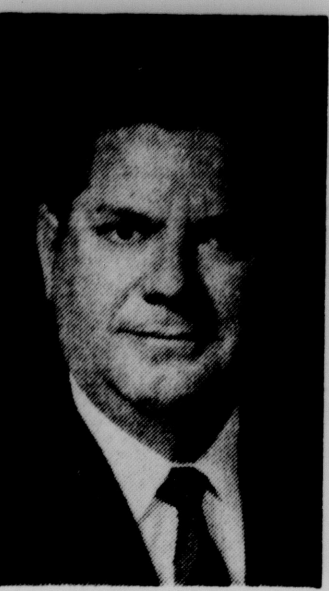

"Over a period of more than a year we have had in Chicago a series of events," he wrote, each small, but which "in the aggregate indicates a pattern of administrative activity by the board."

Willis has been the target of racial integrationists who have demanded his removal in demonstrations this summer.

The crux of Willis' disagreement with the board was closely related to pressures to speed up a program of improvement of educational opportunities for Negroes. The so-called permissive transfer program at issue is essentially a part of the integration program.

Judge Arthur Sullivan of Superior Court on Thursday ordered Willis to allow the transfer from Hirsch High School of students eligible for a shift under the permissive program to the high schools which Willis was trying to exclude from the program—Hyde Park and South Shore.

Willis' appeal of the order was turned down by the Illinois appellate court Friday.

PUCKETT WILLIS

Willis Seeks State House Post In Area

WINNFIELD (Special) — Former State Sen. Puckett Willis, of Sikes, is a candidate for state representative from Winn Parish in the Dec. 7 Democratic Primary election.

His formal statement follows: "I am a candidate for the office of representative of Winn Parish and I solicit the vote and support of all the citizens of Winn Parish. As most of you are personally acquainted with me, I do not feel that it is necessary to give a long personal history."

"I was born and reared in Winn Parish and still reside in Sikes. I have maintained an office in Winnfield for several years and will continue to do so after the election. I am married to the former Rose Parker and we have two daughters, both of whom attend the public schools of Winn Parish."

"As a citizen, I have always had an active interest in our public schools but that interest is now greater since my children are in school. As your representative, I will strongly support all measures necessary to improve our schools. I am aware of the need for additional wages for our school employees and will seek ways to provide fair and adequate wages for them."

"We are faced with the loss of our individual liberty and control of our school system by the ever-growing demands, and threats of the federal government."

"As your representative, I will always oppose these threats and demands. I am and have always been fully determined to maintain segregation in our school and social institutions. To assist in maintaining our freedom and our way of life, I will support and work for legislation to provide for free presidential elections."

"Many of our state employees, particularly those with the highway department and forestry commission, are not getting wages high enough to live on. I will support a fair minimum wage for those employees."

"There are many other issues that are facing us. During the campaign I will discuss those issues with you and give my stand on them. I hope to see each of you during the campaign. If I do miss any of you, please accept this as a personal solicitation for your vote and support."

Parish Nearing Year End Minus Case Of Polio

For the first time in the recorded parish history, Ouachita Parish is nearing the end of a year without one case of polio reported, announced Dr. W. Carroll Summer, Ouachita Parish Health Unit director, Friday.

Dr. Summer, who has been parish director since 1946, said, "If we can go the next three months without a polio case, this will be the first year since I came here that we haven't had a case."

McCain Says He's Running For Senator

COLFAX (Special) — W. T. McCain of Colfax, has announced he is a candidate for state senator from the 31st Senatorial District.

The district comprises the parishes of Caldwell, Grant, LaSalle and Winn.

McCain said he made the announcement "with an inner desire to serve the people of this district and the state of Louisiana. It is made with due humility and pride and with a determination to win with the help of the people of this senatorial district."

He continued: "I am aware of the need for greater progress in road improvements, education, agriculture, forestry, including growing, developing, and manufacturing of timber products, wildlife resources, the needs of our underprivileged and the need for industrial development of our area."

"I plan to represent all the people and work for the interest of this senatorial district."

"History records our efforts and accomplishments. It also records our omissions. Leadership and the courage to assume it during these trying times is going to decide the future of our country. I feel that I have the knowledge of, as well as know the needs of the people of this senatorial district, together with their problems and desires."

"I was born and reared in Grant Parish, attending the public schools at Colfax. I received my A. B. degree from Northwestern, taught in the public schools for three years, graduated from L. S. U. Law School in 1943 and have been practicing law in Colfax and Central Louisiana since that date."

"I am married to the former Erin Sandlin and am the father of ten children and have two grandchildren."

"I have been active in civic projects in Grant Parish and Central Louisiana. I am a member of the Grant-Winn Parish Bar Association, Louisiana State Bar Association, the American Bar Association, a member of the Louisiana Claimants Attorney Association, a member of the National Attorney Claimants Association, a member of the Judicial Society for the improvement of the judiciary, and am chairman of the Grant Parish Democratic Executive Committee, chairman of the Grant Parish Industrial Committee and served as parish representative from 1940 to 1948 in the State Legislature."

"I feel that there is a need for real leadership in these trying times and I feel that my experience and background is such that I can meet the demands of this office."

"I have always stood for good, clean, democratic government, the kind that takes care of the masses of our people."

"I am running as an independent and will be able to work with whomever you elect to the other offices."

"I am making this appeal for the vote and support of the people of the 31st Senatorial District of Louisiana comprising the parishes of Caldwell, Grant, LaSalle, and Winn."

Local Builders To Be Featured In Publication

An editor-reporter team from Practical Builder, national building trade magazine published in Chicago, will arrive in Monroe Tuesday to gather material for a feature on unusual methods used by local builders.

Robert Hamill, senior editor, and Jim Shapiro, reporter-photographer, will spend three days on the assignment, according to Ronald G. Morris, executive officer of the Northeast Louisiana Association of Home Builders, sponsor of the recent Parade of Homes.

Hamill spotted the feature prospects during a tour of Parade of Homes houses about three weeks ago.

One of the local builders to be interviewed will be Loyd Fox, builder of Carson Homes, who has designed labor saving equipment, said Morris. Fox preassembles roof sections in his shop, transports them to the job, sets up a crane he designed and has the roof on the house in a matter of minutes.

This and other labor and cost saving practices and equipment will be reviewed in the magazine to show how savings are passed on to the home buyer.

Another angle to be reported will be the widespread use in the Monroe area of acoustical tile in ceilings and walls to eliminate noises from outside and from different rooms.

The senior editor said that Monroe "was more or less a pioneer in this field of complete sound control in a single housing unit." In other parts of the country it has been used in apartment houses but not in single housing units.

The Monroe story will be featured in the January issue of the magazine.

Limb Cuts Off Power Briefly

Electricity in Monroe between DeSiard Street and Hwy. 1-20 was out of commission for a brief time early Friday morning as an over-weighted pecan limb fell into a power line.

The limb hit a line in an alley between 5th and 6th Streets off Glenmar Avenue at 6:50 a.m. C. H. Frier, assistant manager of the Utilities Commission, said power was restored at 7:16 a.m. The Utilities Commission has had "lot of trouble lately with pecan limbs," Frier added.

EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE

'Lion Of Judah' Addresses U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia mounted the rostrum in the U.N. General Assembly on Friday and recalled how 27 years ago he appealed in vain to the League of Nations for help against aggression.

Then, looking to the future, the frail-looking 71-year-old bearded monarch told delegates from 111 nations that, "Here, in this assembly, reposes the best—perhaps the last—hope for the survival of mankind."

It was a moment in history and both the delegates in the hall and the spectators who filled the galleries to listen to the man in the dark, double-breasted suit were aware of it. They gave him a standing ovation before and after his address.

Speaking in Amharic, the emperor said that he sought in Geneva in 1936 to appeal "for relief from the destruction which had been unleashed against my defenseless nation."

"I spoke then to and for the conscience of the world," he added. "My words went unheeded, but history testifies to the accuracy of the warning that I gave in 1936."

He came to the United Nations from a ticker-tape parade in Manhattan in which he chose to walk instead of ride the last five blocks.

He said he wanted by that gesture to show the appreciation of Ethiopia for all that New York has done for his nation. New Yorkers stood five to 10 deep along the line of march which ended at City Hall Plaza where he was welcomed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

At the United Nations he had lunch with Secretary-General U. Thant and diplomats attending the General Assembly. The guest list of 60 included U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

But it was in the assembly hall where the main drama occurred in his appearance before the organization which succeeded the League of Nations.

In somber tones he noted that the charter of the United Nations expresses the noblest aspirations of mankind—but so did the Covenant of the League.

These, he said, "are only words—their value depends wholly on our will to observe and honor them and give them content and meaning."

He praised the United Nations for daring to act when the League dared not. He referred specifically to actions in Asia, in Suez and the Congo.

Still, he said, that is not enough. He saw U.N. judgments as subject to whims of some member states who have "ignored its pronouncements and disregarded its recommendations."

Cases Of Polio Running Below All-Time Low

ATLANTA (UP)—Polio in the United States is running far behind the record low pace of last year, the U.S. Public Health Service reported today.

The communicable disease center said 285 polio cases were reported in the nation through Sept. 28—fewer than half the number for the comparable period of 1962. Polio cases reached an all-time low last year.

Twenty new cases, all but 16 of the paralytic variety, were reported in Pennsylvania, four in Michigan, two each in Illinois, and Mississippi and one each in New York, Minnesota, Virginia, Kentucky and Alabama.

Five of the cases in Pennsylvania were in Philadelphia and the communicable disease center said they occurred before mass immunization program was conducted.

These are the objectives—yesterday unobtainable, today essential, which we must labor to achieve."

He made plain also that he spoke as a leader of the new nations of Africa, whose recent summit meeting was held in Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

He said that conference had shown to the world that until the policy of white supremacy is abandoned and until "the color of a man's skin is of no more significance than the color of his eyes" lasting peace will remain only a fleeting illusion.
